

J.S. Asks Court To Restore Four Counts Against D. Lattimore

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today asked the U. S. Court of Appeals to reinstate four perjury charges against Owen Lattimore which a lower court judge threw out as violating his constitutional rights.

The appeal papers said U. S. District Judge Luther W. Youngdahl "misconstrued the counts so as to create the new and spurious issues of free speech, conformity of ideas, imposition of orthodox laws, etc. etc."

Judge Youngdahl, a former Republican governor of Minnesota, last May stripped down the indictment against the controversial Far Eastern specialist from seven to three counts.

May Drop Case

Unless the judge is overturned by high courts, the government will have to decide whether to bring Lattimore to trial on the remaining three counts or drop the case. Lattimore, a onetime State Department consultant, was indicted last December. The charges grew out of 12 days of stormy testimony before the Senate internal security subcommittee nearly a year earlier.

Since his indictment, Lattimore has been on leave of absence from Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, where he has been director of the Walter Hines Page School of International Relations.

Lattimore testified during an investigation of the Institute of Pacific Affairs, a private research organization. The subcommittee was looking for evidence that Lattimore had been infiltrated by Communists trying to determine what influence the group had on U. S. Far Eastern policy.

U. S. Dist. Atty. Leo A. Rover headed a battery of six government lawyers in appealing from Judge Youngdahl's ruling.

Threw Out Charge

They devoted most of their arguments to count No. 1, which alleged Lattimore swore falsely when he said he had never been a sympathizer or promoter of communism or Communist interests.

In throwing out this charge, Judge Youngdahl said the First Amendment "protects an individual in the expression of ideas though they are repugnant to the orthodox." We should not attempt to require a conformity in thought and beliefs that has no relevancy to a present danger to our security.

The government appeal argued that the first count "cannot include a First Amendment question because the defendant volunteered his statement," and it added: "Privilege, if any, under the First Amendment was thereby waived."

2 BROTHERS PLEAD GUILTY

Two Hanover area, brothers pleaded guilty this morning before Justice of the Peace L. G. Kuhn, Conewago Twp., to charges of burglary brought by state police of the local substitution as the result of the looting August 15 of the home of John J. Crouse, Littlestown R. 2.

The two, Charles Hartlaub, 32, and Robert Hartlaub, 22, admitted to stealing articles, totaling in value $287, from the Crouse home. Among the items were an electrical toaster and mixer, a 30-40 rifle, a shotgun and ammunition, two 50-pound cans of lard, 16 dozen eggs, a case of canned fruit and other foodstuffs and men's clothing. State police and Hanover police, who assisted in the investigation, said most of the loot was recovered at the defendants' homes.

Robert Hartlaub also pleaded guilty before Justice Kuhn this morning to a charge of larceny of a camera from the car of Mrs. Teresa Lemmon, Gettysburg R. 5. He was accused of taking the camera while the car was parked in Bonneauville on Thursday.

COMMITTEE MEETS TONIGHT

The rescue truck committee of the Gettysburg Fire Department will meet this evening at 7 o'clock at the engine house.

328 Released U.S. Prisoners Get Rousing Welcome In San Francisco; Is First Shipload

By ROBERT W. WELLS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—More than 300 American fighting men today scattered over the United States, en route home from grim Red prison camps and the emotion-packed arrival of the first shipload of repatriated POWs from Korea.

The Navy transport Gen. Nelson M. Walker—first vessel on the freedom run from Inchon, Korea—glided through the Golden Gate yesterday with 328 former captives as a fog bank broke up overhead and Army and Marine bands broke into "California, Here I Come."

As the ship nosed into her pier at Ft. Mason, just across the stream from Alcatraz, a roar rose from 2,400 Marine, Army and Air Force men also aboard. Fireboats spouted streams of

PRICE FIVE CENTS

FOUR INJURED, $685 DAMAGE IN FOUR ACCIDENTS

Four persons were injured, none seriously, and damage totaled $685 in four auto accidents investigated over the weekend by state police from the local sub-station.

Damage totaled $150 and two persons were hurt when two cars collided Sunday noon on the Gettysburg-Hanover Rd., near Bonneauville.

State police, who investigated, said cars driven by Roy E. Hartlaub, 45, Hanover, and Ellsworth Krichen, 61, York, were being driven westward when Krichen apparently slowed and the Hartlaub car ran into the back of his vehicle. Mary Hartlaub, 45, wife of the driver of one car, and their son, Dean, aged 10, both suffered cuts about the lips and were removed to the Hanover Hospital for treatment. Investigation is being continued.

Crash At Intersection

Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock cars operated by Richard A. Brown, 18, R. 3, and Daniel H. Byers, 49, Waynesboro, collided on the Gettysburg-Mummasburg Rd., at the intersection with the road from Seven Stars.

Brown, driving a car owned by Robert W. Brown, Gettysburg R. D., was headed south on the Mummasburg Rd. and Byers was entering the road from the Seven Stars Rd. when the crash occurred. Police said. Damage was $10 to Brown's car and $300 to Byers'. Mrs. Naomi Byers, Waynesboro, was treated at the Warner Hospital for a bruised right hip following the crash.

Saturday at 6:45 p.m. cars operated by Roland Fred Davis, 38, Wytheville, Va., and C. W. Hykes Jr., 53, Biglerville R. 2, collided on the Mummasburg-Gettysburg Rd. at its intersection with one of the battlefield avenues.

State police said Hykes was driving south when Davis failed to stop at the stop sign when entering the highway from the battlefield avenue. Damage totaled $25. No one was injured. Davis paid a fine of $5 and costs for failing to stop at a stop sign before Justice of the Peace John H. Bashore. The charge was brought by state police.

An "innocent bystander" suffered damage and injury in an auto accident in Pennville, just south of Hanover, Saturday night at 10:30 o'clock, according to state police.

The investigating officer said Raymond L. Pittinger, 34, Hanover, was driving west on the Hanover-Littlestown Rd. in Pennville when William J. Sharrar, 27, also of Hanover, attempted to back out of a private drive into the main highway.

Pittinger, police said, swerved to avoid hitting the Sharrar car. He succeeded in that, but struck a parked truck owned by Amos R. Simpson, 62, another Hanover resident. Mr. Simpson's wife, Mrs. Sadie Simpson, 62, who was just getting into the parked truck at the time, suffered a bruised forehead in the crash. Damage to Pittinger's car amounted to $150 and $50 to Simpson's. Sharrar's car was not damaged. Investigation is being continued by police.

Three Properties Are Sold By Sheriff

Adams County Sheriff Dorsey J. Schultz sold three properties at a sale conducted on the steps of the court house Saturday morning. John Greiner, Gettysburg R. 3, purchased the John A. Carey property in Cumberland Twp. for $125. William Sunday, Harrisburg, bought the Hamiltonban Twp. property of David Reese for $100. Cleason Shultz, Franklin Twp., purchased the property of his father, James A. Shultz, for $1,450. The Shultz property contains 22 acres, an eight-room frame house and outbuildings. The Carey property is a lot, and the Reese property is a lot with a four-room log house.

Now stationed in southern Germany, the 4th Infantry Division is receiving intensive field training as part of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) defense force for western Europe.

Corporal Stahley is a member of the 8th Infantry Regiment's Company E. He was a machine operator for the Blue Ridge Pipe and Nipple Company, in Greenstone.

DONALD APPLER, MISS FLICKINGER WED SATURDAY

Miss Marie Ella Flickinger, daughter of Mrs. Paul E. Chronister, Littlestown R. 2, and the late Earl F. Flickinger, and Donald Mackley Appler, son of Evan M. Appler, 215 N. Queen St., Littlestown, and the late Mrs. Effie E. Appler, were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed Church, Littlestown. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds in the presence of many relatives and friends of the couple.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mary C. Flickinger, 169 Cemetery St., Littlestown, as maid of honor. The bridegroom chose as his best man, his brother-in-law, Lewis L. Crawford, 209 N. Queen St., Littlestown. Irvin Conover, cousin of the groom, and Richard Flickinger, brother of the bride, served as ushers.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Claude L. Flickinger, the bride was attired in a white length gown of Chantilly lace over satin featuring a full skirt and fitted bodice with long tapered sleeves. A Peter Pan collar accented the high neckline. Her finger tip length veil of tulle was caught by a clip hat of nylon net, lace and seed pearls. She carried a white lace and satin covered Bible, a gift of her mother, topped with fleur d'amour from which fell a shower of sweetheart roses and white satin streamers.

Held Reception
The maid of honor wore a ballerina length gown of pink net over taffeta, designed with a strapless bodice and matching stole. She carried a cascade arrangement of white pompons and pink rosebuds.

Miss Eileen Hartlaub, Hanover R. 4, presented an organ recital prior to the ceremony and played the traditional wedding marches. She was also accompanist for the soloist, Stewart N. Long, Littlestown, who sang "I Love You Truly," "Through the Years" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The church was decorated with bouquets of white gladioli, potted palms and candelabra.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the social hall of the church, with approximately 100 guests.

Wily, Weepy Old Mossadegh Is Transferred To Jail For Trial

By DON SCHWIND

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Official sources announced today that police have transferred ex-Premier Mohammed Mossadegh from the comfortable quarters of the Tehran Officers' Club to a jail cell. Mossadegh, clad in pajamas, surrendered last week after a bloody coup by supporters of Shah Mohammed Reza-Pahlavi took over the government he had refused to relinquish.

The wily and weepy old Nationalist leader was interned in the plush Officers' Club to await trial, possibly on charges of treason for refusing to obey the Shah's order a week ago to hand the premiership over to Gen. Fazlollah Zahedi.

Whereabouts Not Known
Following Mossadegh's initial success in balking the royal order to get out, the Shah and his Queen flew to a brief exile.

The Iranian ruler returned after Zahedi last Wednesday led the royalist coup that finally led to Mossadegh's downfall. It was not disclosed in what jail Mossadegh is held.

Even with Mossadegh a prisoner the new Zahedi government's troubles were not over.

Small, scattered pro-Mossadegh uprisings still were reported in outlying sections of the country. And the Shah told newsmen at a palace garden party yesterday his nation's treasury "is very empty."

Need Help Badly
"Immediate help is imperative," the Shah declared. "We need help in the next few days. We need not ask any nation in particular and (Continued on Page 3)

Sgt. Dale H. Arnold Given Bronze Star Medal In Korea For Bravery, Heroic Actions

Sgt. Dale H. Arnold, 25, R. 3, was recently awarded the Bronze Star medal in Korea for helping to evacuate a missing wounded companion from an enemy-held area and obtaining intelligence data during a patrol last May. Returning from a reconnaissance patrol on May 5, Arnold discovered one of his comrades missing and immediately volunteered to search for him, despite heavy enemy fire.

Arnold, a squad leader in Co. B of the 40th Infantry Division's 223rd Regiment, was cited as follows: "Disregarding his personal safety, Sgt. Arnold located the missing man and helped evacuate him. While returning to the line, the patrol found valuable information on the bodies of two dead Communists."

Bravery and Heroism
"As a result of Sgt. Arnold's heroic actions one man's life was saved and valuable information was obtained. His personal bravery, heroic actions, and inspiring devotion to duty reflect great credit on himself and the U. S. Army."

Arnold's wife, Mrs. Kathleen J. Dale, lives at Gettysburg R. 3. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph D. Arnold, reside in Biglerville. Before entering the Army in February, 1952, Arnold was a furniture manufacturer. He arrived in Korea last October after completing basic training with the 101st Airborne Division at Camp Breckinridge, Ky. In addition to the Bronze Star, the young Adams Countyman also holds the Combat Infantryman's Badge, the Korean Service Ribbon with two campaign stars, and the U. N. Service Ribbon.

FORMER LOCAL MUSIC TEACHER WEDS SATURDAY

Miss Anna Belle Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Russell, Bedford, a former music teacher in the Gettysburg schools, became the bride of Eugene Joseph Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patsy Joseph Thomas, Clairton, Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock in St. Thomas Catholic Church, Bedford. Rev. Fr. Edward J. Thomas performed the ceremony before an altar banked with palms and greens. The organist, Glenna Cox, Bedford, accompanied the vocalist, Martha Tauger, Forest Hills, Pittsburgh.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of nylon tulle designed with a satin redingote, a stand-up Queen Anne's collar and a scalloped court train. She carried a round arrangement of shattered white carnations centered with a white orchid to which ribbon streamers were tied.

The maid of honor was Miss Margaret T. Heacock, Bedford, who wore a gown of periwinkle nylon tulle. She carried a round arrangement of pink roses with a ribbon shower attached. Her headband was of pink roses.

Reception Is Held
Joseph H. Connolly Glen Rock, N. J., was the best man, and the ushers were Jay M. England, Bedford; David C. Berg, Clairton; David G. Margolf, State College, and George Georgeff, Clairton.

After a reception at the New Hoffman Hotel the couple left for a honeymoon in the Poconos. Upon their return they will be at home at 88 Daniels St., Pittsfield, Mass.

The bride was graduated from the Bedford High School and received her Bachelor of Science degree in Music Education at Pennsylvania State College. She taught music in the Gettysburg schools during 1952-53. Her husband, a graduate of the Clairton High School, received his Bachelor of Science degree in Chemistry at Pennsylvania State College. He is employed by the General Electric Corporation.

the traditional wedding marches and accompanied the soloist, Miss Jean Berg, Carlisle, who sang "I Love Thee" by Greig and "O Perfect Love" during the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" at the close of the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Russel Houghton, Olean, N. Y., wore a full-length gown of white imported Chantilly lace over satin designed with a fitted bodice, long lace sleeves and a Queen Anne collar. The bouffant skirt of lace was draped over pleated tiers of tulle which edged the full cathedral train. Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a matching lace cap trimmed in satin and embroidered with seed pearls. Her satin slippers were embroidered with seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis with a white orchid center.

Matron of Honor

The matron of honor, Mrs. Frederick A. Rodgers, Gettysburg, wore a waist-length gown of green mint chrysomus taffeta designed with a tucked bodice, a V-shaped neckline and a full skirt. She wore a matching taffeta hat trimmed with flowers and mint green slippers. Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of yellow roses and yellow gladioli with ivy.

The maid of honor was Miss Sara Larson, Gettysburg, and the bridesmaids included Miss Marianne Bracey, Gettysburg, and Miss Joan Stevens, Wilkes-Barre, sorority sisters of the bride; Mrs. Bevan Allen, Detroit, Mich., and Miss Joanne (Continued On Page 10)

Quiet Weekend For Gettysburg Police

Gettysburg borough police had a quiet weekend.

Saturday's calendar shows nothing more than reports of "on duty and off duty" by the officers.

Sunday morning, about 2:45 o'clock the officers "engaged in the 'case of the missing friend.' A Dearborn, Michigan, attorney, William F. MacQueen, asked police to help him hunt for a missing friend, Erving Nielson, also of Dearborn, with whom MacQueen was traveling. The two had been at Hagerstown, then became separated here. The report shows that a search of the town failed to locate Nielson.

The officers arranged through the Salvation Army for a night's lodging for a transient on Sunday.

CODE VIOLATOR

Alia I. Frazier, New Oxford, was fined $5 in Hanover Friday evening on a charge of failing to stop on a red traffic signal.

COUPLE MARKS ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. David C. Blosser Jr., 143 Baltimore St., who observed their 45th wedding anniversary Saturday, were guests of honor at a dinner Sunday at Banker's Cashtown Restaurant given by their children. The celebrants were the recipients of 45 yellow roses to commemorate the number of years they have been married. After the dinner, the party met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David C. Blosser 3rd, Taneytown Rd., where the couple cut a white wedding cake topped with white bells.

Present at the dinner besides the celebrants were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Laury, Carlisle, their son-in-law and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. David Kammerer and children, Julie Ann and Debbie, their son-in-law and daughter; and Mr. and Mrs. David C. Blosser 3rd, and children, Susan and Barbara, Taneytown Rd., their son and daughter-in-law.

Special Service In Local Church Sunday

The first of a series of activities in connection with the 100th anniversary celebration of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church here took place Sunday night at the church.

The service was the solemn erection of the new stations of the cross in the newly remodeled interior of the church, with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick F. McGee, pastor of the Church of the Annunciation, McSherrystown, and dean of the priests in Adams County, in charge.

In connection with the anniversary celebration, Rev. Fr. Anthony F. Kane, pastor of the local church, announced that the V. Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S. J., president of Georgetown University, will deliver the sermon at the pontifical mass September 7 which will climax the centenary observance.

SHIELDS URGES CLEAN SCHOOLS, PLAYGROUNDS

William I. Shields, N. Washington St., state sanitarian for Adams County, today called upon the school directors of the county to have their schools in a sanitary condition before the fall term begins.

Shields recommended that the school directors "have the interior of the school buildings cleaned thoroughly; school grounds should be freed of rocks, poisonous plants and accumulated refuse; lavatories should be repaired, thoroughly cleaned and disinfected."

"The water supply for each school should be protected against surface drainage by a tight cover and all wells should be provided with a trough to carry away waste water. When it is necessary to use drinking cups, care should be taken to see that each child has his own drinking cup and that the containers should be periodically sterilized."

Germicidal Treatment

Shields listed the following germicidal treatment for wells and springs that have been dormant through the summer months. "A 12 ounce can of chloride of lime should be mixed in a clean, uncorroded bucket with enough water to form a paste. That paste should be mixed thoroughly into one gallon of water, with the mixing to be done in the open air outside of buildings.

"The mixture should be poured into the well or spring and allowed to remain for about 36 hours. Then generous amounts of water should be pumped off each day until the odor of chlorine has disappeared from the water." At that time, Shields said, the water is "safe to use if all causes of contamination have been removed."

New Oxford Woman Injured In Crash

Mrs. Ruth M. Long, 55, of 112 Orange St., New Oxford, was injured in a two-car collision in New Bridgeville at 5 p.m. Sunday.

She was treated for a cut of the right forearm and a bruise of the left knee by Dr. H. H. Holland, of Red Lion.

State police reported that Mrs. Long was a passenger in a car operated by her husband, Leo A. Long, 54, which passed a stop sign and crashed broadside against an auto driven by Roy V. Bender, 25, a U. S. Marine from Washington Boro, Lancaster County. Bender was traveling south on the road to Delta and Long was going east on the Red Lion road. Total damage was estimated at $400.

BOYS TESTIFY IN GAMBLING TRIAL TODAY

The intricacies of "pin-ball machine" operation were outlined this morning at the opening of the August term of the Adams County court as a jury considered the "setting up and maintaining of gambling devices" charge against Robert D. Strausbaugh, McSherrystown restaurant proprietor.

Three 18-year old McSherrystown youths, Charles Reuben Doll Jr., Robert J. Small and Richard A. Weirman, all testified to "playing" pinball machines in the Strausbaugh establishment. All claimed to have won money as a result of their efforts. Doll recalled winning a "couple dollars" on October 25, because he had lost "about $3" on October 24. Around Christmas, he said he won about $5. Doll also recalled an occasion when he and three other boys had won $10 between them and each received $2.50 of the winnings. Doll added that "you sometimes had to wait around to get a chance to play."

'Luckiest Player'

Much of the testimony concerned the operation of the machines. Most popular of the two machines said to be in the restaurant apparently was the "horse-racing" or "turf" machine which all boys admitted playing. Questioned about a "bingo" pin ball machine, only one said he had played it, and then "only a few times."

Small, named by Doll to be the "luckiest player," said he had won the "feature" or $30 award on the machine and a number of other lesser prizes. There were a number of questions asked about how the "feature" prize was secured, whether the ball could be controlled and whether winning was by mere chance.

State Police David K. James told of the seizure of two pin ball machines from the Strausbaugh restaurant.

The 15-year old youngsters listed by Doll as companions when the "four won $10" on the machine appeared to deny ever having won anything on the machines.

Court Denies Petition

The jury hearing the Strausbaugh case includes: E. Frank Carbaugh, R. 4; Mrs. Lois J. Eisenhart, East Berlin; Harold Fair, York Springs; Clyde Heller, Biglerville; Mrs. Edith D. Johns, Gettysburg; Raymond Redding, R. 2; Bernard A. Robinson, New Oxford; Ernest L. Sentz, Littlestown; William W. Shields, R. 4; Dale W. Starry, Littlestown R. 2; Resser G. Wickline, R. 4 and Carl Zeigler, Littlestown R. 2.

The court handed down an opinion today in the desertion and non-support case brought against Joseph M. Catchings, Biglerville R. D. Pointing out that the questions raised in the petition filed by Catchings and his parents were all on matters which Catchings had an opportunity to deny if he wished at the original hearing, the court stated "The defendant's petitions for a re-hearing or for a vacation of the support order, or any other matters referred to in these various papers filed, are denied."

Two Plead Guilty

Robert N. Helm, R. 1, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of assault and battery this morning and was directed to return Saturday.

KOREAN REFUGEE FOUNDATION HAS COUNTY BACKING

Veterans organizations of Adams County have joined hands in an attempt to raise funds for the American-Korean Foundation. Under the chairmanship of Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, the foundation is attempting to raise 5 million dollars for urgently needed relief and rehabilitation for 10 million Korean refugees.

The program has the support of President Eisenhower, national leaders from every walk of life and representatives of all religious faiths and political beliefs. They are unanimous in the belief that, aside from the humanitarian aspects, the campaign will serve as effective anti-communist propaganda and as cheap insurance against the expensive costs of war. "There is a strong feeling that our great effort in the Korean war will be wasted if we now leave the Koreans prostrate and destitute," Eisenhower said.

Countian Involved In Hanover Mishap

An 18-year-old Hanover girl received a cut on her left ear when the car in which she was riding hit a parked car in Hanover Sunday at 2:30 a.m.

State police said the girl, Nancy Lee Maust, 128 Baltimore St., Hanover, was treated at the office of Dr. Anthony A. Tananis, McSherrytown.

The southbound car driven by Lawrence Liversberger, 20, of 310 Ridge Ave., McSherrytown, struck the car of Ralph J. Messinger, parked in front of his home, 575 Baltimore St., and pushed it about 15 feet.

Damage to Liversberger's car was estimated at $300 and to Messinger's car, $225.

Here And There News Collected At Random

STOP signs potentially are among the most positive safeguards yet devised in the nationwide, 24-hours-a-day fight to cut down the accident and death-and-injury toll on our highways.

Unfortunately that great potential never is realized because of the great numbers of motorists who either flagrantly disobey or unthinkingly ignore the warning to stop.

These STOP signs have been placed at heavily traveled and dangerous intersections for obvious and excellent reasons. They are there to warn motorists that they are approaching an intersection where there is heavy traffic traveling at good rates of speed. The only sane thing to do, of course, is stop fully and make certain that no vehicle is coming in either direction before venturing out into the highway.

Now, this is where many motorists make what often turns out to be a fatal mistake. Some appear to think that some of these STOP signs are unnecessary, so they take unnecessary chances and drive right through them into trouble. Others, because of familiarity with the locations, consider it safe to ignore the signs, but too often find "it ain't necessarily so."

Always obey officers and speed laws. They are for your safety. Never drive one-handed. Keep both hands on the wheel. Never drive on left except when passing. Keep to right. Never pass on right. Never park or stop on travelled portion of highway. Never drive on, park on, or cross medial (center) strip. Never make U turns.

Approximately 600 youths are killed every year in bicycle accidents.

The national income, in terms of present-day dollars, increased from $2 billion to $285 billion over the past 100 years. On a per capita basis, it went up from $102 per person in 1849 to $1,839 per person in the first half of 1952.

National auto club surveys show that eight out of ten car doors become dented, nicked, scratched or have paint chipped off when passengers accidentally slam doors into garage walls and closely parked cars.

INJURED IN CRASH

Two persons were injured Friday night when their automobile ran off the Gettysburg Pike at Hunters Run and struck a guard post. The automobile was operated by George Moten, 32, Aspers. Moten was admitted to Carlisle Hospital with lacerations of the right ear and right arm. James Stuart, 29, Gettysburg, a passenger, was treated at the hospital for lacerations and abrasions of the forehead, left knee and chin.

He attended the funeral of his brother, Earl S. Michael, who was killed August 15 in an airplane crash near Palantine, N. Y.

WILL HELP AIR FORCE WIDOWS IN NEW LIVES

WASHINGTON — The Air Force Assn. Ladies Auxiliary has initiated a program to help widows of recent Air Force dead in the difficult task of readjusting themselves to new lives.

Mrs. Marietta C. Miller of Hollidaysburg, Pa., president of the auxiliary, made details of the program public at the final session of the association's convention yesterday.

The program is aimed at supplementing the work of the Air Force Special Services Division which sends out a man to advise the widow of the $10,000 life insurance policy, take care of arrangements, and perhaps send her back to her home town.

Find New Places

"But most of these new widows have been away from the family home a long time, following their husbands in the service," Mrs. Miller noted.

"We hope to do what the Air Force can't do—help them find new places in the community, join clubs, create new interests—even help them find houses and assist them with their children's needs, if necessary."

She said the association's auxiliary squadrons in cities throughout the United States will take part in the program, originated by Mrs. Carl Spatz, wife of the four-star general who was the first Air Force chief of staff. The program will be headed by Mrs. James Doolittle.

Re-elect President

At the auxiliary's annual election, Mrs. Miller was re-elected president. Mrs. Carl Long, Pittsburgh, was elected as a vice president and Mrs. Chester Richardson of Pittsburgh was chosen treasurer.

Individual shield plaques for outstanding work went to these Pennsylvanians:

Randall Leopold, Lewistown; W. Halton Wilcox, Drexel Hill; Mrs. Miller; Kathryn B. Work, State College; and Kathlene Murray, Pittsburgh.

HERE'S HOW TO HAVE SOME FUN ON A BICYCLE

AP Newsfeatures Writer

If you're worried about your youngster riding a bike on the open highway, cheer up. You may suggest to him a variety of safe games to be played on a bike in a playground.

"Bike Fun" a 68-page book, is being distributed to schools, libraries, civic organizations, camps and others by the Bicycle Institute of America. In it are games, arts and crafts, races, tours, camp and field days for the cycling enthusiast.

Suggestions in the book include these:

It's unsafe to ride a bike that isn't working properly.

Parents should impress their youngsters not to play any games on a "do-or-die" basis.

Emphasize courtesy and consideration for fellow-riders.

Junior should be told not to show off, because such demonstrations usually involve unnecessary risks.

Some of the games in "Bike Fun" are entirely new, others have been played in countries where bicycles are a part of daily existence. Some games are adapted from old games most everyone has played at one time or another.

"Pick and Put"

One game called "Pick and Put" is ideal for a school yard area. It requires two goals that are at least 50 feet or twice that distance apart.

Two teams are chosen with an even number of players on each side. Ten or less small objects are selected, such as potatoes, empty cans, small stones or rubber balls, which players are able to carry in their hands. The objects are divided in half and placed inside 3-foot circles at either end of the course. Besides these circles in an empty circle of the same size.

The players transfer the objects from one end of the course to the other, depositing them in the respective empty circles. Only one object is carried at a time by one member of each opposing team, starting from opposite ends of the course.

The contestants dismount, pick up one of the objects, remount their bikes and ride to the other end of the course where they dismount and place the object in the empty circle. They then remount and return for another object until all have been transferred to the opposite ends of the course.

Can Be Disqualified

The rider who wins this competition scores 10 points for his side. If both riders finish at the same time, they split the points. If a player drops the object being carried before reaching the goal, he is disqualified and the opposing side scores. If riders collide or if a rider becomes dismounted between goals but retains the object he's carrying, he may remount and continue the game. The action is repeated until all members of each side have participated. The winning team is the one with the highest score total.

"Sack Boxing," another game suggested, is a variation of the old pillow fight. A circle about 30 feet in diameter represents the playing area. Mounted on their bikes, two contestants try to hit each other with pillows. Under a set time limit, the number of hits are scored. If a player loses his balance by allowing either foot to touch the ground he loses a point, which is deducted from his total number of hits.

Say Reds Will Free All Their Prisoners

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The head of India's Korean POW delegation announced today that the Communists say they will turn over to the commission U. N. prisoners the Reds claim do not want to go back to Allied hands. Reporting this, Indian Foreign Secretary R. K. Nehru told a news conference the Reds had not stated how many POWs they would claim are nonrepatriates.

"Since they (the Communist command) have said throughout that all prisoners should be repatriated by both sides, they say they have not screened their prisoners," Nehru explained, adding, "that process is going on now." Nehru, reporting on his advance inspection mission to Panmunjom, said 300 prisoners, appearing in groups, will be screened daily.

FIND FUNGUS DISEASE THAT DESTROYS OAKS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Department of Agriculture reported today that a fungus disease that kills oak trees has been spotted in 226 areas of 10 Pennsylvania counties.

Secretary Miles Horst said most of the infected areas are in eight south-central counties within the Blue Ridge Mountains.

Horst defined the infected area within a rectangle running north-east from the Maryland State line near Meyersdale, Somerset County, 100 miles to Centre Hall, Centre County; then southeast 40 miles to Newport, Perry County; then southwest 87 miles toward Mercersburg, Franklin County, to the Mason-Dixon Line. However, Horst said no oak wilt has been found in Centre County.

Conduct Airplane Survey
Airplane surveys have been underway for 9 weeks and will be completed by Sept. 1 when changes in forest tree foliage will make it impossible to identify oak wilt from the air. The 226 positive identifications to date compare with 164 found in air and ground surveys last year.

The eight counties within the rectangular area and the number of known oak wilt spots in each, follow:

Bedford 84, Huntingdon 16, Juniata 4, Perry 33, Mifflin 14, Cumberland 1, Franklin 38, and Fulton 32. In Cumberland and Franklin counties infection is confined to mountain areas along the western edge.

Other counties where positive identification of oak wilt has been established include three spots in Westmoreland and one in Blair. Suspected spots for which testing is incomplete include four in Indiana and one in Allegheny.

Infected trees are cut down and all live oaks within 50 feet of each dead tree are killed with chemicals.

There were also 10 other Philadelphia aboard.

with the West, was leading his country down the road to war.

Malenkov's speech and the communique also renewed Soviet demands for a provisional all-German government to prepare for elections and eventual German unity.

Seven Major Points
The communique, signed by both Malenkov and Grotewohl, disclosed seven major points in the new treaty:

1. Diplomatic representation in East Berlin and Moscow will be raised to embassy level.
2. Soviet-run enterprises in East Germany will be returned to the East Germans.

3. Soviet occupation costs will be reduced to a level of not more than 5 per cent of total East German revenues.

4. Russian authorities will take measures to release German war prisoners. Excluded from the pardon will be those "who committed particularly wicked crimes against humanity."

5. East Germany's debts to Russia since the war will be wiped out.

6. Reparations payments to Russia will end after next Jan. 1. The amount still due was listed at $2,537,000,000.

7. Russia will bolster the East German economy with shipments of food, coal, steel and other metals, cotton and other goods worth 590 million rubles (147½ million dollars at the official Soviet exchange rate) and will extend credits of 465 million rubles (121¼ million dollars).

HARRISBURG (AP)— Legislation permitting third class cities to set up municipal authorities to eliminate grade crossing hazards was signed into law today by Gov. John S. Fine.

The laws was designed specifically to permit the city of McKeesport to construct a railroad tunnel to eliminate 25 railroad crossings in the downtown area.

It allows the authorities set up to construct tunnels, bridges, viaducts, under passes, or to relocate facilities of public service companies.

MAJOR'S SON GETS NEW POST

HARRISBURG (AP)—Richard R. Samuel, Philadelphia Republican ward leader and son of the former Philadelphia mayor, today took the post of deputy secretary of the commonwealth.

The 49-year-old Philadelphian, assistant director of Gov. John S. Fine's Safety Commission for the last seven months, was named to the job yesterday by Commonwealth Secretary Gene D. Smith.

Announcement of the appointment to the $9,324 a year post was made at Smith's law offices in Allentown.

Samuel will be the first deputy to serve under Smith since he took office in 1950. Under the law deputy secretaries are appointed by the secretary with the approval of the governor.

Samuel attended the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Finance and has been active in Philadelphia GOP politics for many years. He was Republican leader of the 39th Ward until last February.

His position on the Safety Commission ended when the Legislature failed to make a new appropriation for the group.

Girl Scouts Visit Boy Scout Chalet

NEW YORK (AP)—Four Jenkintown, Pa., girl scouts arrived here today after a European trip on which their leader said they realized a "Girl Scout's dream."

This was a visit to the Scouts' international chalet, 30 miles from Bern, Switzerland.

Miss Myrtice Hurt, a nurse from Jefferson Hospital, Philadelphia, who acted as assistant scout leader on the trip, said another highlight was a meeting with a group of Scottish Girl Guides with whom the Jenkintown girl scouts had corresponded for five years.

The four, who arrived on the liner Italia, were part of an original group of 13 of Troop 132 who had planned the 10-week trip for five years. The other nine flew home Aug. 15 when they were unable to obtain ship reservations.

Jurors excused included John Brown, Biglerville; Caroline Bucher, Aspers; Mrs. Edith D. Johns, Gettysburg and Mrs. Gertrude Lindaman, Littlestown.

Elks Convention To Attract 30,000

HARRISBURG (AP)—The vanguard of an expected 30,000 visitors was in town today for tonight's opening of the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Elks Assn.

Scheduled to address the first session of the convention which lasts through Thursday is Earle E. James of Oklahoma City, the Elks' grand exalted ruler.

On hand are 720 delegates, six from each of the 120 lodges in the state.

A parade Thursday will highlight the week's activities. New officers are to be elected Wednesday. The annual drill team contests is set for Thursday.

Dr. Logan Bennett New Pa. Game Chief

HARRISBURG (AP)—Dr. Logan J. Bennett, Washington, D. C., nationally-known wildlife authority, today was appointed executive director of the Pennsylvania Game Commission.

Bennett, chief of wildlife research for the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, will succeed Thomas D. Frye on Oct. 1.

Bennett formerly served as Pennsylvania's first leader of the Federal-state cooperative wildlife research unit at the Pennsylvania State College from 1938-1947.

St. Aloysius School Opens September 1

St. Aloysius Parochial School will open for the 1953-1954 term on Tuesday, September 1. All children of the school will attend the opening mass at 8 a.m.

Freshmen from the parish only will attend the September 1 sessions at Delone Catholic High School.

The first day at Delone has been inaugurated as orientation day for the freshmen. School will begin at 8:35 a.m. on that day and every day at Delone. All students attending there will report on September 2.

The Rev. Fr. Edward J. Shanahan announced that next Sunday will be the last Sunday of this year for Sunday masses at St. Aloysius Church at 7:30 and 9:30 a.m. On the first Sunday in September, the winter schedule of masses will begin, the time being 7:30 and 10 a.m.

COMMIES DEFY LANIEL'S ORDER TO END STRIKE

PARIS (AP)—The back of France's postal and telephone strike appeared broken today everywhere except in the capital. But balking workers continued to resist back-to-work orders in other strike-bound industries and services.

As the nationwide workers' protest against Premier Joseph Laniel's proposed payroll and retirement benefit cuts went into its 20th day, only a few trains were operating. The Paris subway and bus systems still were partly paralyzed. Army trucks still hauled some Frenchmen around the city.

Elsewhere, scattered strikes continued to "spring up like weeds," as one observer put it.

Reds Defy Premier
The Communist-led General Confederation of Labor openly defied Laniel's demands for an end to the strikes and promoted new walkouts to push demands for higher wages.

But the continuation of the tieup was not only Communist-inspired. Although the non-Communist Christian and Socialist unions had ordered their workers back on the job, many members defied the command. They first wanted assurances they wouldn't be fired for striking and could make up pay losses through overtime.

Former Hitler Aide Loses Voting Rights

DUESSELDORF, Germany (AP)—Dr. Werner Naumann, controversial candidate of the extreme rightwing German Reich party, was classified by the State Interior Minister here today as a Nazi offender and ousted from the Sept. 6 parliamentary election campaign.

In campaign speeches, Naumann has compared Hitler with Napoleon and praised nazism for saving West Europe from communism.

The minister's ruling stripped Naumann, once one of Hitler's top propagandists, of his voting rights and thus made him ineligible as a candidate.

NAMED TO EMBASSY DUTY

John C. Sneringer, ADC, a naval chief petty officer, recently returned from a Mediterranean tour of duty, left Washington, D. C., Friday afternoon by plane for Saigon, Indo-China. He will serve on attaché duty with the American embassy in Saigon for the next several years. A veteran of 13 years with the air arm of the Navy, Sneringer is the son of Mrs. Pearl K. Sneringer, Buchanan Valley.

INDIA IS BIG KOREAN ISSUE

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—United Nations delegates came back to work today in an attempt to hammer out a decision by the end of the week on the Korean peace conference makeup.

As the Assembly Political Committee gathered to resume debate U. S. opposition to including India at the peace conference table was matched by the Asian nation's refusal to withdraw from the list of possible conferees.

The chief Indian delegate, V. K. Krishna Menon, expected to take the floor for the first time tomorrow to challenge the American stand publicly.

Delegates also waited to hear from South Korean Foreign Minister K. T. Pyun about his country's threats — voiced by President Syngman Rhee and other South Korean spokesmen — to boycott the conference if India is a member.

Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. declined last night in a televised interview (Meet the Press) to confirm reports he had told other delegates U. S. opposition to India stemmed from the South Korean threat. He also refused to comment on South Korea's opposition to India.

The victim was James J. McElvarr, 36, of Bellmawr Park. McElvarr and his wife, Myrtle, 33, were run down early today as they walked along Browning road, a half mile from their home.

McElvarr was dead when he was taken to West Jersey Hospital in Camden. His wife was treated for shock and bruises.

Under arrest as the driver is John Tracy, 19, also of Bellmawr Park. He was captured in Haddon Heights after a chase. He was charged with reckless killing by automobile.

Hit-Run Neighbor Kills Father of Six

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—A Camden County father of six children was killed today by a hit-run driver identified by police as a young neighbor whose licenses, revoked for careless driving, was restored only a week ago.

The victim was James J. McElvarr, 36, of Bellmawr Park. McElvarr and his wife, Myrtle, 33, were run down early today as they walked along Browning road, a half mile from their home.

McElvarr was dead when he was taken to West Jersey Hospital in Camden. His wife was treated for shock and bruises.

Under arrest as the driver is John Tracy, 19, also of Bellmawr Park. He was captured in Haddon Heights after a chase. He was charged with reckless killing by automobile.

Former Bank Head Dies At His Home

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Joseph Carson, 70, an attorney and son of the late Hampton J. Carson, attorney general of Pennsylvania, died last night at his home in suburban Bryn Mawr.

Carson formerly served as president of the Fairmount Park Commission and the Free Library of Philadelphia.

He is survived by his widow, a son, three daughters, four grandchildren, one great-grandchild, a brother and two sisters.

COLONEL MUSTIN DIES

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Col. J. Burton Mustin, 78, retired president of the Stratford Knitting Mills here, died yesterday at his home in suburban Rosemont.

He was a commissioner of Lower Merion Township for 12 years before retiring in 1946. He left the knitting business early this year. His widow and a daughter survive.

St. John's Council Session Postponed

The monthly meeting of the Church Council of St. John's Lutheran Church, scheduled for Tuesday, has been postponed to September 1. There will be Senior Choir rehearsal on Wednesday at 8 p.m. The Junior Choir will not meet this week but will rehearse September 2. The regular schedule of Sunday services will be resumed next Sunday with Paul E. King, superintendent of the school, teaching the lesson in the Adult Department. At the 10:15 a.m. worship service, the pastor, the Rev. William C. Karns, returned to the pulpit. The Rev. Mr. Karns has announced that there are empty jars at the church which women of the congregation are asked to take home and fill with fruit and vegetables for the Lutheran Home at Washington, D. C.

State Offers Two Year Program Here

The Pennsylvania State College will offer, for the first time in this area, a two-year college program to train engineering associates. Brought about by increased demands of industry for technically trained men, the college staff and representative industrialists have arranged the program.

Courses of study are offered in electrical technology and drafting and design technology.

"If we can train enough engineering associates to meet the demand of industry, we will be doing a great service for the industries of Pennsylvania and the people who use their products," said, C. D. Bond, Chairman of the Penn State York Advisory Board retired York industrialist.

E. M. Elias, administrative head of The Penn State York Center said, "The two-year terminal programs are conducted at centers in the larger communities of the state. They provide practical training and related general education for engineering associates."

McSherrystown Cab Crashes Into Auto

Two persons were injured slightly in a collision of three vehicles in the first block of Carlisle St., near Chestnut, Hanover, at 8 o'clock Sunday night.

Injured were Tina Weaver, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burnell H. Weaver and Evelyn Miller, 44, all of Hanover, both of whom were treated for cuts and bruises by a nearby physician.

Police said cars driven by Burnell Weaver and Leroy C. Wine, Hanover, had been stopped for traffic, when a taxi cab driven by Gerald Pfaff, McSherrystown, struck Wine's car which was pushed into Weaver's auto.

Damages were listed as follows: Cab, owned by Flickinger Cabs, McSherrystown, $250; Wine's car, $75; and Weaver's, $50. Miss Miller was riding in the cab.

Governor Opposes Aid To Firemen

HARRISBURG (AP)—A legislative attempt to give state aid to a number of volunteer fire companies protecting state institutions was rejected today by Gov. John S. Fine.

The governor approved a traditional $5,000 fund to Harrisburg fire department for protecting the state Capitol buildings.

But he cut from the same bill $1,450 in similar grants to other local fire companies about the state.

They were $900 to fire companies in Cresson Sanatorium and Holidaysburg State Hospital; $400 to companies near Muncy Industrial Home and $150 to fire companies protecting Pennsylvania Industrial School, Huntingdon.

The small grants were added in the House by a group of lawmakers, who held that fire companies in their areas should receive state aid, if it is given to Harrisburg.

NEW HOME DESTROYED

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Two boys playing with matches started a fire which destroyed a new $25,000 home in suburban Drexel Hill yesterday, police said. The six-room, 1½ story ranch style house, just completed, was to have been opened for public inspection this week.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO
At the Court of Quarter Sessions
last week Louis Lavinia was sentenced to one year's imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary, for stealing watches from the shop of Mr. Wm. Frazer, of this place.

Married: On Wednesday morning, by Rev. Robert Johnston, William King, Esq., of Straban township, to Priscilla Louisa, and James G. Reed, Esq., of Gettysburg, to Sarah Frances — both daughters of the Editor of the "Sentinel." (Robert G. Harper).

On the 18th inst., by the Rev. J. Ulrich, Mr. George W. Spertzel, to Miss Juliana C. Spealman — both of this county.

On the 23rd inst., by the Rev. Jacob Ziegler, Mr. Ephraim H. Wintrop, to Miss Elizabeth Mary Feaser — both of Germany township.

The markets in New York are literally flooded with peaches. On Wednesday morning some 35,000 baskets were brought in from New Jersey and Staten Island alone.

Two deaths occurred in Fairfield, in this county, week before last, which were supposed to be cholera. The individuals were of feeble constitution, one of them elderly, and indulging in improper diet, the other of dissipated habits. No other cases occurred and all alarm has subsided.

The Late Spell of Hot Weather:
A writer in a New York journal says that, so far as he has been able to carry back, he does not find the record of any weather in August comparing with that of last week for fifty years — that is, not in the intensity and duration of heat, and its extraordinary effects.

Potatoes are selling at $18 per bushel in some parts of California. Thus at $5 per day, one man would have to labor over three days for a bushel of potatoes.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
On Sunday morning, Dr. Steck, pastor of St. James (Lutheran) church, preached an eloquent and interesting "Harvest Home" sermon. The Dr. has attractive pulpit qualifications and is always interesting. On either side of the pulpit were tall stalks of growing corn, towering up among the gas jets. On the altar was a handsome pyramid of flowers, around the base of which were clustered small fruits, apples, tomatoes, etc. In front of the pulpit on a white ground were the words "HARVEST HOME" in green. Tastefully arranged bouquets and blooming flowers filled up the picture. The collection yielded about $70, which will be increased to $100.

James Swope, son of John A. Swope, of this place, left on Monday for Lincoln Nebraska, where he goes into the furniture business with a younger brother.

J. F. McKenrick, a son of Charles McKenrick, of Buchanan Valley, this county, has been admitted to the Bar at Clearfield, Pa.

On Monday Francis Trainor (brother of Mrs. A. W. Flemming, of this place) aged 37 years, while attempting to step on a train, leaving Paoli station on the Pennsylvania railroad, missed his footing and the wheels of the car passed over his legs, fearfully mangle and nearly severing them both below the knees, causing his death next morning.

One of the horses driven by Shearer Houser in the stage between this place and Chambersburg, became sick while crossing the mountains on Friday, and died shortly after.

THE CLOCK

The clock ticks off the seconds and the minutes and the hours
And never pays the slightest heed to any wish of ours.
Around the dial move hands that mark the time of day,
And no man can be rich enough to bribe them to delay.

The clock is not concerned with men. It neither sees nor hears.
To joy and sorrow, wealth and fame indifferent it appears
For every day of every year the hours are twenty-four
And whatsoever be his need, a king can have no more.

Oh, little watch upon my wrist, and clock upon the wall
You teach me when its twelve o'clock, 'tis twelve for one and all.
And since a minute none can add or minute take away,
The proudest and the richest of us all should humble stay.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE CHEERFUL FRONT

Walt Mason, the poet, once wrote a prose poem that he called "The Welcomed Man." He with the cheerful front, a smile upon his face, a song within his heart — radiating good will and happiness wherever he went.

We all know how warming it is to meet a person who immediately gives us a lift of spirit, whether in the home, on the street, in the office, or not matter where. Such a person is always welcomed. The cheerful worker is always the most efficient. Life itself would be full of deep shadows without the sunlight of those who spread cheer everywhere they go.

I visit neighbors where they have a most affectionate little dog. He runs out to meet me, wagging his tail at top speed. His whole personality is one of joyful acceptance. Contrast him with some dogs, who only stand and snarl, who growl and warn you to keep your distance. People are like both of these examples.

I have quoted this fine thought of Stevenson's before, but it will bear repeating. He said: "A happy man or woman is a better thing to find than a five-pound note. He or she is a radiating focus of good will; and their entrance into a room in as though another candle had been lighted." We have all met such people. They are the shining stars in the firmament of life.

There are those who display the cheerful front, even while experiencing pain of the body, or facing problems of a serious nature, about which no one outside themselves know. It's the courage of the heart that sets them apart and urges them to display before others the cheerful front.

Cheerfulness has great medicinal value. Pessimism, anger, resentments, and an unhappy outlook, all have a deteriorating effect upon this physical body of ours. We have yet to learn the full power of the human mind in its relation to health and happiness. We do know that the cheerful front pays big dividends!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "To Be Missed"

Brownell Studies Measures To Halt Wetback Invasion

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—By the end of this year about 200,000 Mexicans will have crossed the border legally to work on American farms for six weeks to six months. But probably twice that number or more will have slipped in illegally.

Atty. Gen. Brownell says that in the past year U. S. immigration inspectors nabbed about 389,000 illegal entrants and missed perhaps another 100,000.

He's searching for a way to stop this flow of "wetbacks" which former President Truman's Commission on Migratory Labor said in 1951 was an "invasion."

"Wetback" once meant a Mexican who came in illegally by swimming the Rio Grande. The meaning has been widened now to include any Mexican who enters illegally by swimming, walking across the border, or being carried over by boat or truck.

750 GUARDS ON BORDER

There are about 750 guards along the 1,600-mile border. Brownell is studying the question of the government's hiring more guards or perhaps suggesting the use of American armed forces as border guards.

After a tour of the border area a week ago he said that among other proposals he heard mentioned was this: passage by Congress of a law to penalize American farmers who hire wetbacks.

An official in the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Security, in noting there is no penalty on them now, said there is a penalty for transporting wetbacks but there have been few prosecutions.

In the same agency it was said that if American farm owners "went legal"—that is, hired no Mexican workers except those brought in with U. S. government Mexican workers would jump 25 to 50 per cent above the present figure of around 200,000. (MORE)

Unlawful Employment
Washington first add World Today $36 xxx around 200,000.

The President's commission two years ago recommended that employment of wetbacks be made unlawful. This commission was caustic about the abuse it said some of the wetbacks have to endure:

"Those who capitalize on the legal disability of the wetbacks are numerous and their devices are many and numerous. . . If the wetback makes a deal to be guided or escorted across the Rio Grande or some section of the land border, everything he is able to pay is usually extracted in return for the service which may be no more than being guided around the fence or being given a boat ride across the Rio Grande."

The commission said a wetback who doesn't have the money to pay the smuggler for bringing him in is frequently sold from one "exploiter" to another.

Can't Complain

It said the wetback, since he comes in illegally, can't very well complain to American officials about the treatment he gets here, including the pay on a farm, since that would disclose his illegal entry and he'd be shipped back.

Under law passed by Congress, this country has an agreement with the Mexican government to bring in workers legally for a period ranging from a minimum of six weeks to a maximum of six months.

A subdivision of the labor security bureau has recruiting stations in Mexico where those looking for the temporary American farm jobs are checked for physical condition, criminal record, if any,

and subversive activities.

Farmers who want them have to pay the government $11 per man for their transportation. At the border they are checked again and permitted to come in by the U. S. Immigration Service.

The farmer must guarantee them a minimum wage — the rate prevailing in the area — plus lodging. Under this arrangement, provided for by law, the American government has some control of the number of Mexicans coming in for farm work and where they go. It has no such control over the wetbacks who, given no wage guarantee, can depress wages in any area where they go by working for what they can get.

150 AMERICANS ARE RELEASED

PANMUNJON (AP)—The Korean prisoner exchange approached the end of its third week today as 150 Americans, most of them captured late in the war, returned from Red captivity.

The Communists said they would return 136 more tomorrow, which would push the total number of freed Americans over the 2,000 mark. The Reds originally said they held 3,313 Americans.

Several repatriates spoke lightly and jokingly of their shorter experiences as captives in contrast to the grim tales told by other POWs who suffered under Red hands for two and three years.

The Reds also returned 300 South Koreans Monday. The U. N. Command released 2,400 North Korean soldiers and 259 North Korean civilians.

"Operation Big Switch" is almost two-thirds complete, providing the current rate of exchange is maintained. Monday was the 20th day of the exchange.

SEEK REDS IN U. S. POSITIONS

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate subcommittee has appealed to present and former government employees for help in learning "the identity of the Communists who are presumably still in government."

The appeal came from the Senate Judiciary subcommittee on internal security, which during the past year has been hunting for Communist infiltration of government agencies extending back 20 years. Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) heads the group.

In a 50-page report summarizing what it called "interlocking subversion in government departments," the subcommittee declared last night:

"The Soviet international organization has carried on a successful and important penetration of the United States government, and this penetration has not been fully exposed."

The report said four or more Soviet espionage rings among government employees have been described by ex-Reds and "that only two of these have been exposed."

GOV. FINE LAUDS PA. GUARD SHOW AT INDIANTOWN

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania national guardsmen returned to the practice ranges today after putting on what was called in all quarters an impressive Governor's Day review and parade.

A crowd estimated by state police at over 35,000 watched the 1 1/2 hour show on Muir Field in honor of Gov. John S. Fine, commander in chief of the recently reactivated 28th Division.

Some 4,000 ground units in training here plus an additional 1,500 men of the 112th Fighter Bomber Wing quartered at Spaatz Air Field, Reading, took part in a demonstration of "how the PNG can cope with any emergency and help every citizen in his own backyard."

Finest Military Show

"Without a doubt this has been the finest military show I have ever seen anywhere," the governor commented after watching infantry, cavalry, artillery, engineer and military police units pass in review. Overhead more than 60 aircraft put on a show that included a simulated airborne rescue operation carried out within 75 feet of the reviewing stand.

Pilots in L19 trainers evacuated "stretcher cases" hurried to the scene in PNG ambulances. Then they dropped emergency food and medical supplies and showed how communication lines are laid down.

A group of civilian and military officials stood with Fine on the reviewing stand yesterday.

Pennsy Team Wins Teener Championship

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—A team of boys from the hard coal region of Pennsylvania today owns the title of 1953 National Teener Baseball Champion.

The All Star Pennsylvania squad from Lackawanna County blanked Illinois, 5-0, Saturday to win the first annual teener tournament.

Fifteen-year-old Pete Fidatti hurled Pennsylvania to the win, giving up only two singles in the seven inning game. He struck out 11 men, just half the number he faced. He also batted a triple in four hitting appearances.

Representing Illinois was the VFW team from Elgin. The Veterans of Foreign Wars sponsored the tourney for players from 13 to 15.

Rosen Heading For Triple Crown In American League; Indians, White Sox Win 2

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Cleveland's vanishing Indians rate as the biggest flop in the American League but Al Rosen, their chief hatchet man, is heading for the triple crown as well as the circuit's Most Valuable Player award.

The slashing third baseman, who gave evidence of future stardom when he led the league in home runs in his rookie year in 1950, is the No. 1 guy today in batting, runs batted in and homers.

Only three players in each league in the long history of the game have been able to win the triple crown. They were the American League's Ted Williams (1942 and 1947), Lou Gehrig (1934) and Jimmy Fox (1933); and the National League's Rogers Hornsby (1922 and 1925), Chuck Klein (1933) and Joe Medwick (1937).

Hammers 33rd Homer

Rosen boosted his batting average to .326 yesterday, getting three hits in six times at bat as the Indians clubbed the St. Louis Browns 2-1 and 9-0. Rosen hammered his 33rd homer in support of Art Houtteman's shutout pitching in the nightcap and batted in four runs to increase his total to 116, tops in both leagues.

Despite the double victory, the third-place Indians still remained 13 games behind the league-leading New York Yankees, who blanked the Philadelphia Athletics 4-0 behind the six-hit pitching of Vic Raschi. The runner-up Chicago White Sox struggled to win 8½ games of the Yankees, sweeping a twin bill from the Detroit Tigers, 2-1 and 11-6. Boston's Red Sox vanquished Washington 5-4 on Ted Williams' fifth home run in 25 official times at bat since his return from Korea.

Dodgers Win Two

Brooklyn's National League pacemakers increased their margin over Milwaukee to nine games, drubbing the hapless Pittsburgh Pirates twice while the Chicago Cubs were holding the Braves to a split in their two games. The Dodgers clubbed nine pitchers into submission, winning 10-4 and 9-4.

Johnny Klippstein snapped the Braves' eight-game winning streak, pitching the cubs to a 7-2 triumph after Warren Spahn had hurled his 16th victory in Milwaukee's 10-2 opening success.

Earl Torgeson drove in three runs with a home run and single to give the Philadelphia Phillies a 6-3 triumph and a sweep of the four-game series with New York. Southpaw Kenny Raffensberger pitched and batted the Cincinnati Redlegs to a 5-3 victory over St. Louis to drop the Cardinals into fourth place, half a game behind the Phillies. Raffensberger helped win his seventh game with a two-run double in the ninth.

Hank Bauer's ninth home run, in the fifth inning, was all New York needed to whip the Athletics' Harry Byrd.

Rookie first baseman Bob Boyd, subbing for the injured Ferris Fain cracked key blows in both Chicago victories over the Tigers. He tripled in the ninth and scored the winning run on Sam Mele's single as Sandy Consuegra bested Steve Gromek in the first game pitching duel. Boyd drove in a run with a double and laced two singles in the big six-run Sox eighth inning of the nightcap.

Karl Olson's ninth inning double scored Jim Piersall to enable the Red Sox to snap a 4-4 tie made possible by Williams' seventh-inning homer. In six starting games and eight pinch-hit appearances Ted boasts a .480 batting average on 12 hits in 25 times at bat.

Duke Snider batted in seven runs with his 30th and 31st homers, a pair of doubles and a single as the Dodgers made it 16 victories in their last 17 games. Gil Hodges also homered and drove in four runs as Russ Meyer won his 13th with a seven-hitter over the Pirates in the opener.

Randy Jackson rapped a double and three singles in three official times at bat, driving in two runs and scoring twice to back up Klippstein's six-hit pitching for Chicago against Milwaukee in the second game of the double-header.

Klippstein not only snapped the Braves' eight-game winning streak but halted Milwaukee outfielder Andy Pafko's torrid hitting. Until blanked in the nightcap, Pafko had hit safely in 20 straight games. He had three for three in the opener.

WIN GOLF TOURNEY

LANCASTER, Pa. (P)—The four-day Central Pennsylvania best ball of partners golf tournament ran according to form. Favorites Mickey Draude and Lawson Wilson of the host Conestoga Country Club, scored a 3 and 2 victory over Hal Peek and Glenn Horst of Media Heights Country Club in championship flight.

Calvert Hall Squad In Camp At Mount

Baltimore's Calvert Hall High School football team, perennial contenders for the city prep school championship, will begin a ten-day conditioning and practice camp today at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg.

Coach Bob Nowatsky, former Chicago Bear and Baltimore Colt wingman and line backer, will bring 42 men to the Mount this afternoon. In addition to conditioning and practice drills Nowatsky also hopes to run grid films and perhaps to give the youngsters a look at the Colts in Westminster before drills end on September 3.

DOGS

by Tom Farley

BARKING

Joyful barking by your pet may be sweet music at times, but incessant, meaningless barking is a sure-fire way to inspire neighbors to long for shotguns.

The well-trained dog will rarely bark excessively when you are at home — first, because most dogs that bark too much do so because of nervousness and a well-trained dog is seldom a nervous dog. And second, if he is trained to give instant obedience to the command "no," you can quiet him immediately if he does start to bark.

The dog that goes crazy at the sound of the door or telephone bell can seldom be silenced by punishment. Chasing him with a newspaper or grabbing his collar will only make him more excited. But if you can bring him under control with voice command and make him sit or lie down, you can calm him promptly.

Numerous ingenious gadgets have been developed to control barking at night or when the owner is away. For instance, one dog was cured when his owner devised a gadget which directed a thin stream of water in his face when he barked. An amplifier and loud speaker connected between the doghouse and master's bedroom was effective in another case, and still another barking dog was quieted immediately when a neighbor turned on recordings of commands by the dog's owner.

Slightly simpler methods include running a garden hose from the kitchen sink to the doghouse. When the dog barks — this should be done in summer only, of course — just turn on the hose.

Don't try to stop his barking entirely, though. There may come a time when a barked warning will be mighty important to you.

Henry Williams Jr. Wins District Title

SHAWNEE-ON-DELAWARE, Pa. (P)—Henry Williams Jr., Berks County Club, Reading, Pa., is the new Philadelphia District P. G. A. golf champ, with a trophy and prize money to go with the title.

The Reading golfer defeated Pete DeAngelis, Plymouth, Pa., Country Club, 3 and 2 in yesterday's final match at the Shawnee Inn and Country Club here. DeAngelis started out sensationally with birdies on the first two holes and even par on the next two to lead 4 up on Williams. But Williams, who also won the title in 1949, kept plugging away until he evened the match on the 30th hole. He went 2 up on the next two holes, the 33rd was even; and then Williams won the 34th and the title.

The trophy and prize money were presented by singing star Jane Froman.

3 Californians Draw Top Seedings

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Three California girls have drawn the top seedings in the annual U. S. Girls' Lawn Tennis Singles Championship which opens here today at the Philadelphia Cricket Club. Doubles play starts tomorrow.

Mary Ann Eilenberger, San Diego, last year's runner-up, is in the favorite's role. Darlene Hard, Montebello, is second-seeded and Barbara Breit, North Hollywood, is third.

Last year's champion, Julie Sampson, San Marino, Calif., is over the 18-year age limit.

Jeanne Arth, St. Paul, Minn., is fourth ranked in the tournament and Gwenyth Johnson, Merion, Pa., has been seeded fifth.

WALL COLLECTS $65.71

MONTREAL (P)—Art Wall, Pocomanor Manor, Pa., pro from Honesdale, who nosed out Cary Middlecoff for the Port Wayne Open Golf Championship last week, finished well down the list in the $25,000 Montreal Open yesterday.

Wall collected $65.71 for his 66-71-69-75-281 card, 16 strokes behind winner Doug Ford of Harrison, N. Y.

YANKEES' ACE RETURNS FROM WAR IN KOREA

SAN MATEO, Calif. (P)—"Fit as a fiddle and eager to get back to the Yankees," Marine Capt. Gerry Coleman is home after 63 Korean air combat missions.

The world champ's second base ace arrived at Travis Air Force Base yesterday, the lone passenger on an Air Force transport plane. After greeting his family, his next thoughts were of baseball.

"I feel that if the opportunity presents itself, in a week or 10 days maybe I could pinch run or something," he grinned.

"I'm in awfully good shape, but of course I won't know for sure about that myself until I get back in there and try."

Gerry Coleman Day

The Yankee management was jubilant. A scout met Coleman to size him up and bring him up to date.

And the champs' brass quickly scheduled a Gerry Coleman day in Yankee Stadium Sept. 12. They added they expect Gerry to rejoin the team this week.

Gerry himself wasn't so sure. Although a Marine corps spokesman in San Francisco reported Coleman had been ordered home for "immediate discharge," Gerry said he hadn't been informed of the date. If it's soon, "I'll be back in training immediately," he said.

Softball League Title Game Tonight

The playoff championship of the local Softball League will be settled this evening when the VFW and Glenn L. Bream Garage teams clash at 7:30 o'clock on the Recreation Park diamond.

Each team has won two games in the best-of-three series. The last three games have followed similar patterns, the ultimate winners coming from behind in the late innings to snatch victory.

Tonight's contest, the final of the season, is expected to attract the season's largest crowd.

COUNTY HORSES AMONG WINNERS

The following Adams County entries were among the winners at the All-Palomo show at Lancaster, Sunday: Golden Lady, owned and ridden by Wilson Clapsaddle, Gettysburg, 2nd in Pole-Bending or Cutting Race, 3rd in Trail Class, 2nd in Pair Class paired with Excellent Lady owned by B. W. Hughes, Gettysburg; Kris Kringle, owned and ridden by Peggy Long, Gettysburg, 1st in Warmup Jumping Class, 2nd in Open Jumping Class.

A trick horse owned by B. W. Hughes and ridden by Ralph Shetter, Biglerville, gave an exhibition at the show. This horse will go through its paces at the South Mountain Fair horshow on Saturday, September 12.

Competing at the Lancaster show grounds were 55 of the nation's top Palomino horses.

LANCASTER, Pa. (P)—A Palomino stallion owned by a West Virginian has been named grand champion of Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Zephyr's Golden Glory, owned by E. J. Flaccus of Wheeling was awarded the top honor.

The champion is a son of Golden Zephyr, sold two years ago by John Ewell, East Earl, Pa., to cowboy star Roy Rogers. Golden Zephyr is now movie and TV star "Trigger Junior."

Judy, owned by Corral Motel, Kittanning, Pa., was named grand champion mare. Serian Gold Bug, owned by Lester Serian, Indiana, Pa., was reserve champion stallion, and Gold Show, owned by Frederick H. Deile, North Bergen, N. J., was reserve champion mare.

Elmira Trounces Reading In Two Tilts

By The Associated Press
The up-and-coming Elmira Pioneers are causing some headaches in the camp of the Eastern League Reading Indians.

The Pioneers bounced back from a Saturday night lacing to blast the Indians, 8-4 and 10-9 yesterday and help the Binghamton Triplets to halve Reading's first place margin. Reading now leads Binghamton by two games.

The Triplets pinned a double defeat on the host Williamsport Athletics, 16-2 and 7-4, the Wilkes-Barre Barons won two at home over the Schenectady Blue Jays, 11-5 and 2-1, and the Albany Senators won twice over the visiting Scranton Miners, 1-0 and 7-1.

It was a great day for the sluggers—with 13 home runs sailing over the boards.

Makes Hole-In-One In Dapper Dan Meet

PITTSBURGH (P)—It took all of nine years but somebody finally got a hole-in-one in the hole-in-one contest which the Dapper Dan Club puts on every year for charity.

The man who did it is Ted Luther, Pittsburgh South Hills Country Club professional, who sank the shot on Schenley Park's 122-yard No. 5 hole yesterday.

Next closest shot by the 1,151 other contestants, each of whom got two tries, landed 18 inches from the pin.

The Dapper Dan Club is an organization of Western Pennsylvania sportsmen.

NATIVE DANCER CALLED GREAT ATTRACTION

CHICAGO (P)—Maybe, as Eddie Arcaro says, Native Dancer hasn't proved himself an all-time running great but he's certainly one of the all-time great attractions.

People, thousands of them, turn out just to see him run, with little thought of betting on him or against him. Rarely has a thoroughbred possessed this tremendous crowd appeal.

Arcaro subbed for the Dancer's regular jockey, Eric Guerin, in Saturday's $112,000 American Derby at Washington Park. He "tickled" home Alfred G. Vanderbilt's galloping gray ghost in 1:48 2-5—just a fifth of a second shy of the track record.

Though 22-year-old Eddie Arcaro has mounted could have run faster, "if he had," he still wouldn't accord the Vanderbilt gray ranking alongside Citation, the all-time money-winning champ Arcaro rode to so many triumphs.

Arcaro's attitude after the race—his first aboard Native Dancer—was that C. nation had proved himself against all types of competition, earning greatness on a take-on-all-comers basis. Native Dancer, he said has been confined to racing 3-year-olds and thus—though "a great horse"—is not yet confirmed as an all-time great.

One of the largest Washington Park crowds in years, 37,108, turned out to see the Dancer do his stuff. The vast majority of them were pulling him home in the derby.

Native Dancer, something of a freak because of his color, put on a show that has become typical in the 18 victories he can boast in 19 starts. He loafed through the early stages, trailing by as much as 11 lengths through most of the backstretch, and then started knocking off the frontrunners with a calm precision.

At the end, he was two lengths in front of Lanklocked, the runner-up who came out of the pack himself in the stretch. There was never any doubt about the outcome once Native Dancer made his bid. As Arcaro said later, with a laugh:

"Sorta Frantic"

"He was flicking his ears and sorta prancing, looking straight at the cameras at the wire."

Later, someone came up with figures showing that a $2 bet to win on Native Dancer in each of his 19 races would now total only $13.00. That isn't much of a parlay. And, obviously, there isn't much profit in betting against him.

Probably the only real heavy winner in the always-favored Dancer's career is owner Vanderbilt. He's pocketed almost $750,000—fourth highest earnings of all time—since his horse began running.

Arcaro and Native Dancer may be teamed again. Trainer Bill Winfrey is considering entering the horse in Friday's $15,000 added Saratoga Cup and he was shipped to Saratoga yesterday.

8 Teams Entered In Little World Series

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (P)—Eight teams of boys from 8 to 12, emerging from elimination tournaments in 46 states and various foreign countries, are here for the start tomorrow of the 6th annual Little League Baseball World Series.

Opening games in the one loss and out tournament pit Schenectady, N. Y., against North Newton, Mass., from Regions 1 and 2, and Camp Hill, Pa., against Little Rock, Ark., from Regions 3 and 7.

Wednesday's opening round games will see Front Royal, Va. (Region 4) playing Vancouver, B. C. (Region 8) and Birmingham, Ala. (Region 5) meeting Joliet, Ill. (Region 6).

The championship is decided Friday afternoon.

Three Teams Remain In Amateur Series

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (P)—Buffalo, N. Y., and Washington, D. C., clash today with the winner playing New Orleans for the limited division championship of the All-American Amateur Baseball Assn.

The three teams are all that remain from a field of 16 which entered the double elimination tournament last Tuesday. Two losses eliminate a team.

New Orleans defeated Washington, 4-0, in the semi-finals yesterday behind the one-hit pitching of Bill Burke and Buffalo walloped Pittsburgh, 16-4, as the Pittsburghers committed seven errors.

Records of the surviving teams: New Orleans 5-1, Washington 4-1 and Buffalo 4-1.

The big news in the Pen-Mar Baseball League Sunday was New Windsor's 7-3 victory at New Oxford. It marked the first victory of the season for New Windsor which snapped an 18-game losing streak. The defeat kept New Oxford deadlocked with Emmitsburg for second place.

Emmitsburg dropped a pair of games to the champions, Union Bridge, who triumphed 11-8 Saturday in the playoff of a postponed game and followed with a 6-2 victory Sunday in a regularly scheduled game. Both contests were played at Emmitsburg.

The best game of the day was staged at Cashtown where the invading Blue Ridge Summit outfit registered a 2-1 decision. The game resolved itself into a tight pitchers' duel between Chet Cornwell of Cashtown and C. Calimer of Blue Ridge. L. Calimer secured two of his team's seven. The setback dropped Cashtown into fifth place with Blue Ridge moving up into the fourth spot.

Thurmont was the only home team to win over the weekend as it downed Littletown 9-7.

Fine Slashes Aid To School Districts

HARRISBURG (P)—A bill to aid financially distressed school districts was cut today by Gov. John S. Pine from $700,000 to $400,000 for the 1953-54 biennium.

The measure permits the superintendent of public instruction to distribute the fund in any manner he determines to be fair.

As originally introduced the bill would have appropriated $500,000 for financially distressed schools but was increased to $700,000 by the Senate.

COLDSMITH HORSE SECOND

Red Hunter, owned by Roy Coldsmith, Gettysburg, and ridden by his daughter, Miss Pat Coldsmith, won second place at the Sharpsburg, Md., horshow on Sunday. The local Tennessee walker competed against a fine field of about 30 horses.

DRAFT 1,411 IN OCTOBER
HARRISBURG (P)—State selective service headquarters today fixed 1,411 men as Pennsylvania's draft call for October. The national quota is 23,000 men.

The October total is approximately the same as that of the last three months.

Greenmount and Taneytown scored victories as the playoffs in the South Penn Baseball League got underway Sunday afternoon.

Hitting hard all the way, Greenmount upended Bonneville, regular season champions, 13-7, at Bonneville, while Taneytown, second-place finishers, turned back Bruchtown 4-0 on the Taneytown diamond.

Next Sunday Bonneville will play at Greenmount while Taneytown will be at Bruchtown as the teams continue their best-of-three series.

Greenmount rapped out 12 hits, four by George Kennell, and piled up a 13-2 lead to withstand a five-run rally in the final inning by Bonneville.

R. Decker and Bobby Miller formed the winning battery. Sneering, T. Gardner and Gebhardt toed the slab for Bonneville with C. Shanbrook doing the receiving. Sneering, the losing hurler, collected three of his team's 10 safeties.

Unger hurler a six-hit shutout for Taneytown as his team blanked Bruchtown 4-0.

The victors tabbed one run in the first and fifth innings and added two more in the fourth. Warner, Bruch

Eisenhower Favors Liberal U.S. Foreign Trade Policies To Stimulate World Unity

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower today made public an administration adviser's report declaring free world unity "will remain precarious and fragile" unless the United States liberalizes its foreign trade policies.

The report to the President by Lewis W. Douglas, former ambassador to Great Britain, says that for 30 years this country has erected import barriers which have operated against "re-establishment of international economic and financial health and equilibrium."

America long ago became the world's greatest creditor and can "no longer pursue the protectionist policies of a debtor nation and hope to escape... discrimination against American products in the international markets," the report adds.

Need Freer Trade

"Time is of the essence" in moving toward freer trade, Douglas says in a review of currency and trade relations between the United States and Britain. He urges the administration to make a prompt announcement it is determined to work toward "a progressive vigorous and consistent relaxation of our restrictive foreign trade legislation."

In a letter dated July 21, Eisenhower termed the report—submitted to him July 14—"a most valuable contribution toward illuminating the still dark corners of this highly significant matter."

Without committing himself, Eisenhower turned the report over to the new government study commission on U. S. foreign economic policy, a group headed by Clarence E. Randall of Chicago, board chairman of the Inland Steel Corp. The group soon will begin a survey to determine whether this country's trade policies should be revised.

Cites British Progress
In his report, Douglas dealt with the progress Britain has made toward resolving "many of the causes of the imbalance between the dollar and sterling."

And he defined the issues "which we, on our side, must face if we are to enjoy the fruits of an enlarged volume of trade, more stable currencies, and an expanded area of economic freedom."

It was on that score that Douglas said the United States for 30 years has been erecting barriers operating against re-establishment of international economic health. He also said:

"It is doubtful whether the world can recover a high degree of economic freedom or whether American exports—so important to large segments of our country—can enter foreign markets without benefit of continued American subsidies and subsidies, unless sterling makes further progress toward its own emancipation."

Threatens World Unity
"If further progress is not made toward the removal of restrictions on trade and a more unfettered exchange of currencies, it is quite likely that, despite international political institutions that have been erected or that may be erected in the future, the unity of the free world will remain precarious and fragile."

"On these points American national interests are vitally concerned."

Serving as a special deputy to Secretary of State Dulles, Douglas began his study for the President shortly after the talks which United States and British officials held in Washington last March on economic and financial problems.

Happy Short Was Sob

On the pier below, many a wife sighted her husband and many a mother her son and started a happy shout—only to find it came out a sob. Some children, bewildered because they didn't quite understand it all, huddled in their mother's arms, their backs to the fathers they had never seen or could barely remember.

Emotions climbed to a peak in the everlasting minutes required to tie up the ship. They broke, finally, when the gangway was raised and the first of a stream of former prisoners ran down to the dock.

First ashore was Pfc. Roosevelt A. Lunn of Baltimore. Lt. Gen. Joseph M. Swing grabbed him by the hand and shook it. San Francisco Mayor Elmer Robinson did the same as Lunn's mother and most of nine brothers and sisters back in Baltimore watched the scene via a nationwide television hookup.

On Lunn's heel came a steady stream of men pouring down into the huge pier shed. Families hung over white fence barriers and many of the former captives broke into a run for a reserved area where the relatives waited.

It was bathed white with the glare of television and movie lights. Flash bulbs popped and broadcasters dashed to and fro, dragging tangles of cable.

But neither the reparations nor their families minded.

PROBE MURDER OF RICH WIDOW

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Investigators today continued to probe into the brutal slaying of Mrs. Walter E. Clark, principal owner of the Charleston Daily Mail, who was beaten to death in her fashionable home Friday night.

Except for a fragment of varnished oak wood found in a pool of blood beside the body, police admitted they were "up against a blank wall."

Police Chief Dewey Williams said the wood may have splintered off a weapon used to beat the socially prominent 59-year-old widow to death. Detectives said no motive had been established for the killing.

A stranger was seen taking pictures of the Clark home about a week ago, but a phone call to police from an Ohio man yesterday doused speculation that the stranger might provide a clue to the slaying.

The man, unidentified by police, said he made photographs for an architectural firm studying different types of homes.

FAVORS OUSTING OF MILK GROUP

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Democratic State Sen. Elmer J. Holland of Pittsburgh says elimination of the Pennsylvania Milk Control Commission would prevent the award of milk contracts for political reasons.

Holland who, sponsored a bill in the 1953 Legislature to abolish the milk commission, made the statement yesterday in criticizing Gov. John S. Fine's opposition to the proposed act.

The Pittsburgh senator declared abolition of the commission would restore competitive bidding in the milk industry and do away with "tie bids" that lead to political favoritism.

Gov. Fine last week revealed he had assumed authority to award four million dollars a year in milk contracts for 50 state institutions to dealers "friendly to the administration." The authority formerly lay with the State Department of Property and Supplies and the institutions' boards of trustees.

Vetoes Three Bills For Lack Of Funds

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine today vetoed three bills on grounds of lack of funds to finance their provisions.

The bills rejected would have appropriated $21,000 for improvements to the water facilities at Phillipsburg State Hospital; $20,000 for maintaining dikes along Darby Creek, in Tincum and Darby Townships, Delaware County; and authorize purchase of a tract of land adjacent to the Indiana State Teachers College, Indiana County.

"I am of the opinion that expenditures should be limited to matters that are necessary and provided for in the budget," Fine said in a statement.

The governor said that he believed "any urgent work" needed on the Darby Creek dikes could be taken care of through other appropriations to the Forest and Waters Department.

JAPAN GOES MUSICAL

TOKYO (AP)—Western music, less than 100 years old in Japan, currently is played by five symphony orchestras and more than 500 jazz bands throughout the country. Four of the symphonies are in Tokyo and Osaka, the two largest cities and the fifth is a 20-piece wind and string aggregation at Takasaki, a small commercial center of about 100,000 which has no college or music academy.

The Spokane: Modern Ranch-Type Home

Rooms Six
Bedrooms Two Closets Six
Cubage 29,900 ft.
Dimensions 54' x 28'

The beautiful large picture window in the living room, the open front piazza, and the glass blocks providing light for the entry hall are architectural details that will appeal to many prospective home builders for both their practical and decorative values.

Protection for the front entrance is provided by an open porchway. Long and narrow, the entry hall contains a large coat closet in its back wall; a doorway to the front bedroom at the right, and an open archway to the living room at the left.

Living-Dining Room

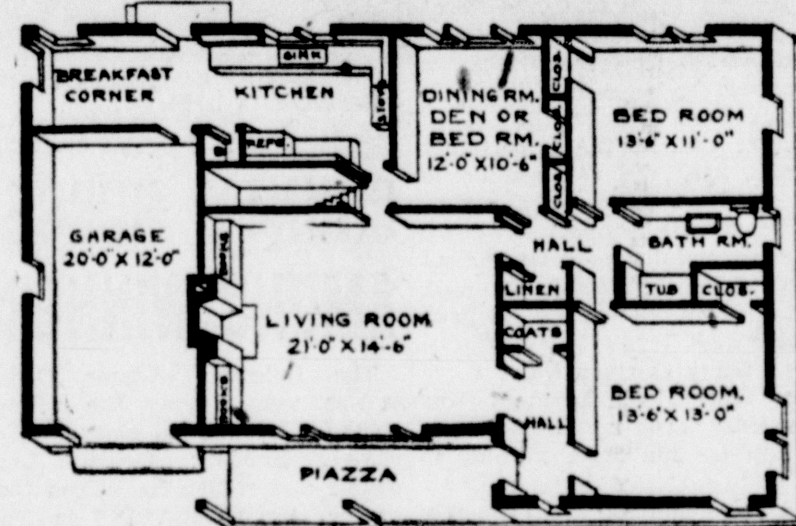

Spacious in dimensions, 21' x 14'6", the living room is large enough to easily serve as a combination living and dining room. The large fireplace in the left wall, flanked by built-in bookshelves, shares decorative honors with the lovely picture window in the front wall.

If this room is used as a combination living-dining room, the dining section will have to be located in the rear section of the room where it will be nearest to the kitchen. Even though you use this room for two purposes you'll still find it has ample space for your television set. Against the right wall, between the doorways, would be an ideal location.

Although it is a sort of connecting link between the passage-ways leading to the room in "The Spokane," the living room is well laid out with all the doors so placed that you don't have to go directly through the center of the room to get from one hallway to another.

Cellar steps lead down from the living room to the kitchen and also connecting with the dining room, den or bedroom. Compact and well planned with its wealth of cabinets, cupboards and working counters, the kitchen contains a separate breakfast corner at the left end of the room.

Well lighted by two windows, the breakfast corner will see service all day through. It's an excellent spot to serve family luncheons or to chat over a cup of tea with the next door neighbor. The back or service entry opens off the breakfast corner on to a small stoop leading out to the back yard.

In the kitchen itself the sink is conveniently placed under the double windows in the back wall; the stove is placed against the right wall at the end of the line of working counters. Additional working counters against the front wall and next to the refrigerator will prove especially useful when you're taking foods out of the refrigerator as well as when you're storing them away. Also located conveniently near to the stove, these counters will come in doubly handy in meal preparation tasks.

Multi-Purpose Room

Including a room that can be used for any number of purposes is a modern feature of home planning—one that suits the needs of many families. With its one large window flanked by narrower casement windows in its back wall, the Spokane's dining room (or den or bedroom) is assured of plenty of light and ventilation.

Measuring 12' x 10'6", the room is large enough to serve anyone of its three purposes. The big closet in the center of the right wall, will prove especially useful if you decide to use this room as a bedroom either for a member of the family or for guests. If the room is to serve as a dining room this closet area could easily be made into a china closet.

An extra closet, always useful in any home, opens on the connecting hallway just beyond the multi-purpose room. Containing double windows in its back wall, plus a single window in the right

Things Of The Soil

WEEVILES IN BEANS AND PEAS

Strange among numerous rumors and theories that have grown up around farming and gardening operations through the years is the widely prevalent belief that the seed germ of a stored dry bean or pea actually turns into a feeding weevil. Of course, only a moment of thought is necessary to expose the folly of such an impossible occurrence. Certainly everybody knows that vegetable matter does not and cannot turn into animate matter. But as long as the idea prevails the problem of controlling bean and pea weevils will be rendered more difficult to solve. Every gardener and housewife should, therefore, clearly understand the simple facts about this common insect.

The small dark creature (weevil) seen in dry beans and peas, first as a dark or grayish circular spot beneath the grain covering membrane, hatches inside the bean or pea from an egg deposited there while the pod is still soft and green and usually while the grain inside the pod is small and soft. The parent or egg-laying form is the weevil. Thus, when the pest gnaws its way out of stored grain in winter, it may actually start another generation unless it is destroyed. Is the brood that hatches soon after the crops are stored that causes most damage.

There are eight important rules of prevention which all gardeners and farmers should employ around the year to reduce the weevil population. They are:

1. Plant only weevil-free seed.
2. Harvest and thresh beans and peas for food and seed as soon as the crops are fully matured.
3. Store the grain in tightly covered containers or in fibre bags having 24 or more meshes to the inch.
4. Plow or otherwise turn under all bean and pea refuse before winter, particularly all shattered grain.
5. Keep fence rows and other idle areas near the garden free from weeds, with a careful clean-up before winter.
6. Induce birds to nest and rear their young near gardens and truck crop fields.
7. Ask all neighbors to join in these preventive measures and direct combat practices because the egg-laying adult weevils may easily travel from garden to garden and from farm to farm.
8. Fumigate or otherwise treat all dry beans and peas before storing them.

The last advised measure may consist of heating the grain within a temperature range of 150 to 175 degrees F. for 20 to 30 minutes. Of course, scorching should be avoided. This method should not be used where either crop is to be used for seed.

Where extreme care is exercised it is possible to heat dry beans and peas to a 120-to-145-degree range for several hours to kill weevils and destroy the unhatched eggs and still not harm the grain for seed purposes. Both of these methods may be practiced in an oven where heat is controlled and registered.

Dipping the grain in boiling water for exactly one minute is likewise effective. The grain should be thoroughly dried before it is stored. Fumigation with carbon disulfide is highly recommended. It

Mrs. Elsie Barlip of Allentown was asleep last night when a reporter called.

He told her that her son, Pfc. Jacob G. Roth Jr. had been freed from a Communist prison camp. "He was?" she gasped. Then a pause. Then a sigh. "Oh, thank God. Oh, thank heavens. I've been waiting so long." Twenty-one-year-old Jacob had been captured a month after the Korean War started—way back in July, 1950.

At Lemoyne, Pa., near Harrisburg, another mother had a similar reaction, although her waiting period wasn't as long. "I've been sitting by the 'phone every night since the exchange began," said Mrs. Ralph Thrush. Her son, Ralph, 24, an Army private, was released last night, after only a month of captivity. Ralph was captured 11 days after reaching Korea and about two weeks before the truce.

Perennials Are Stars Of Garden Show All Season

Veteran gardeners know the months by their flowers. Already this year, there have been five spectacular performances in the garden pageant: Daffodils, tulips, iris, peonies, and delphiniums. Each of these lovely flowers has displayed its beauty for a brief period and then retired, leaving its admirers a little sad, but not for long, because another star comes on the stage to enchant them.

To plan this show, and plant the varieties necessary to present it, requires a knowledge of what the landscape designers call "the succession of bloom." Beginners growing their first flower gardens should make a study of this subject before they do much planting.

Because perennial flowers live for years, they grow much larger than annuals, and some bloom much earlier. In the spring gardens are decorated with perennials, all with brief flowering periods. Many annuals then enter the picture, to bloom until they are frozen. But gardens will still be dominated by perennials, which will appear in the following order: After the delphiniums, hollyhocks and phlox, will come perennial asters, hibiscus, liatris, hemerocallis, and chrysanthemums.

Old Favorites

The well planned garden will give particular attention to the early and late perennials, which are relatively few. In June and July every garden can have flowers, for that is when most varieties bloom. The headliners will have supporting players which many may prefer to the stars; and a wide choice may be exercised in selecting these. But in June a garden without iris and peonies, one after the other, will definitely lack interest; and in every month some specimens of the dominant flower of the period should be grown.

Many old favorites which have never been surpassed in hardiness and beauty bloom late. One which will continue to bloom until October is gaillardia, especially the variety Burgundy, which has large daisy flowers of wine red, which resist dry weather remarkably. Hibiscus is another with a long season of bloom. Its flowers are single, three to five inches across, of pink and red. If you have a damp location the hibiscus will like it, and though related to tropical flowers of great beauty, the garden type grown in the north is as hardy as an oak.

Gaillardia Burgundy Flowers until frozen.

Other Favorites

Platyodon, or Chinese bell flower, grows in clumps two feet tall, bearing dainty bell flowers of blue or white, resembling the Canterbury bells of spring, but having a much longer season of bloom, as they last from June until September. This is a favorite of old-time gardeners, and spreads from self-seeding.

Veronica bears spikes closely set with small blue florets, and flowers from midsummer until fall, making an excellent color foil for brighter blossoms. Stokesia, or Stoke's aster, bears large deep blue flowers, resembling the annual aster, on bushy plants which thrive in dry, hot weather.

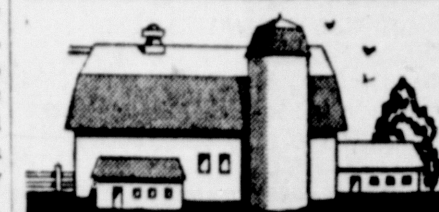

The old-time favorites can be grown from seed, which can be started now in flats and grown outdoors until they reach flowering size next year. They are all perfectly hardy and need a minimum of attention, appearing each year at about the same time, and giving a long season of bloom.

Another old timer which cannot be grown from seed is often called the perennial ageratum, but known to botanists as eupatorium coelestinum. It bears large flower clusters of pale lavender blue, exactly resembling those of the annual ageratum, but the plant is much taller. It grows as a bush two or three feet across and two feet tall, and produces abundantly during September and October. It thrives in either sun or shade, and is easy to start from a root division, which you may get from a neighbor.

About two million people a year visit the Great Smokey National Park.

"Cancer May Kill Me But It's Not Going To Scare Me To Death"

By RELMAN MORIN
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — A friend of mine, a newspaperman, closed his typewriter for the last time the other day.

The news hit hard and hurt, at first, as it always does. The vision of his red hair arose, and the freckles, like flecks of cinnamon, all over his Irish mug. His nose was large and defiant, and shaped pretty much like the prow of a frigate. He had a wide mouth and a boulder for a chin. The whole effect was of a fierce and formidable man.

And sometimes, around the office, he tried to put on a mask of transibility, but it wouldn't have fooled a 4-year-old because he could never get the grin out of his warm brown eyes. So vivid a man he was.

But there is no room for sorrow in the manner of his passing, and that is the reason for this story. Bill had cancer.

Stricken In Hotel

He weakened one morning in a hotel room a long way from his home. The pain had him so bad, he said, that it almost unhinged his knees.

Still, he got in his car, and barely crawling because of the weakness, started home. On the way, as he told me, a thought came to him suddenly. It sounds strange in the telling, but not if you look at it as he did.

He was glad it had come to him in this way, while he was alone, away from home, and so brave. Surely, there can be no better proof of the indestructibility of the human soul than that it harbors such gallantry.

You can picture him on the highway, holding hard to the wheel fighting down the pain and fear, and thinking, working out in his mind what he would do.

Conducts Diagnosis

For nearly a week—and this is the gallantry and the wonder of the human soul—he said nothing and tried to let no sign appear in his face.

Meanwhile, he was conducting his own diagnosis. Bill had a strong bent for medicine and the study of it. He might have been a good doctor. Anyway, he said, he determined for himself what had happened, and the zone where the trouble must lie. He did it by turning to some medical books and matching his symptoms with what was written there.

His diagnosis turned out to be correct.

Then he went to a doctor for the examination. "The point is," he told me, "I was already 99 per cent certain. So the very worst news he could give me would be no more than I expected. And if I was wrong, well, that would be just that much better."

Fears Are Confirmed

He made them give it to him straight, including the percentages in an operation.

Only then did he go home and tell his family. That was the hardest part, he said. He tried to think of some way to break it gently. He even considered lying about it. The only time he ever flinched was in the moment when he must face Helen and the boy.

When he told them, he added, with that chin stuck out a mile, "This business may kill me, but by golly, it's not going to scare me to death. So cheer up."

So vivid a man, and so brave. Surely, there can be no better proof of the indestructibility of the human soul than that it harbors such gallantry.

East Berlin

EAST BERLIN — Relatives and friends have received word from Wayne Thomas, East Berlin High School alumnus who is on a concert tour of the West and Northwest, including Canada, that he has reached Hollywood. The young baritone expects to give personal appearances in a number of entertainment centers and to make recordings before he returns in September.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Myers, Plato Center, Ill., are making their annual visit to this section where Mr. Myers was born and lived the early part of his life. They are residing during their stay at the home of a brother, Oliver W. Myers, and from there going to be entertained at other relatives' homes.

Mrs. William T. O'Brien, formerly Miss Dorothy M. Myers, has arrived at her home in Paramount, Calif., after spending several months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Myers, R. 2, to recuperate from a serious illness which hospitalized her for some time last year. Mrs. O'Brien, wife of a Paramount physician, is reported very much improved since her visit here.

Bishop George L. Leech of the Harrisburg Catholic diocese, will be at Paradise Catholic Church Tuesday evening, September 15, to confirm a class of youngsters who have reached 12 years of age and the sixth grade in school. The Sisters of St. Joseph will give special instruction to the class between the opening of the parochial school, September 1, and the confirmation date. Residents of the Paradise School for Boys are taking instruction from the Sisters during the present end of vacation.

Representatives of the Paradise Twp. PTA were present at the recent meeting of the York County Council of Parents and Teachers at the bungalow of Mrs. Carrie Fuller, Dallastown, to prepare the 1953-54 programs in which the local group will also participate through the year.

The first of these will be on Thursday, August 27, when a School of Instruction will take place at St. John's Episcopal parish hall, N. Beaver St., York, with afternoon and evening sessions and the reception of new units into the council.

IRAN MAY GET FINANCIAL HELP FROM UNCLE SAM

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new Iranian regime which ousted Premier Mossadegh last week appeared today to have excellent prospects of obtaining emergency financial aid from the United States.

President Eisenhower will have to make the final decision on what would amount to a radical change in U. S. policy toward Iran, but officials noted that the situation in that troubled country has changed radically.

As a matter of fact, the whole range of U. S. relations with Iran is already under high-level consideration. If the Shah's new Prime Minister, Fazollah Zahedi, urgently asks assistance, he seems very likely to get it.

"Treasury Is Empty"

The Shah told newsmen in Iran yesterday that his country must be helped in the next few days. He said the treasury is empty.

The United States regard Zahedi's administration as an opportunity for a new deal in Iran. It ousted Mossadegh, a man who was considered fanatically opposed to making any settlement with the British on the long oil dispute and who was risking Communist increase in power to consolidate his own hold on the country.

Zahedi is regarded as an ardent nationalist but also as a reasonable man. U. S. officials hope he will be able to stabilize his country and that eventually he will undertake some kind of reasonable settlement with the British.

Move Slow On Oil

They say he cannot move fast on the oil question, however, because popular passions are too high.

Iran has been without any revenue from its billion-dollar oil industry since the industry was nationalized two years ago. The government formerly got, directly and indirectly, more than 100 million dollars a year from oil, according to experts here.

The United States presently has a 23 million dollar economic and technical assistance (Point Four) program for Iran. It also has a relatively small military aid operation.

Prison Hospital Is Too Attractive

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Some Virginians have deliberately had themselves convicted of misdemeanors to find a bed in a ward for treatment of tuberculosis.

Dr. William J. West, state prison farm surgeon, said eight persons, unable to get treatment in overcrowded tuberculosis sanatoria, are now receiving it at the prison farm. They consented to go to court and be convicted of violating communicable disease health ordinances in order to get the treatment.

Look what your FORD dollar buys !

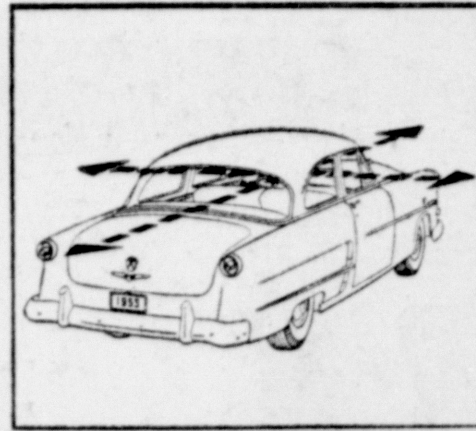

Check the features below against any car in the low-price field and you'll see why Ford's worth more when you buy it...worth more when you sell it.

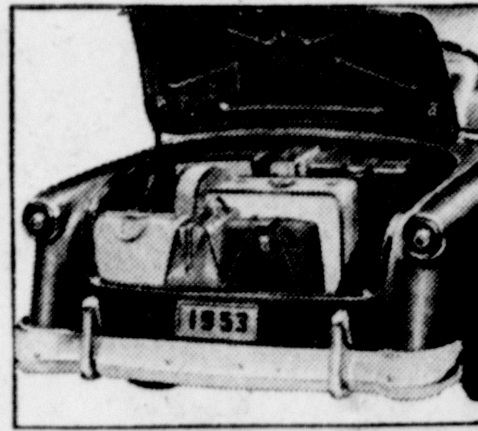

V-8 POWER is yours in Ford—but not in other low-priced cars. It's the product of Ford's experience in building over 13,000,000 V-8's! Ford's high-compression, low-friction Mileage Maker Six with Overdrive, is the Economy Sweepstakes winner.

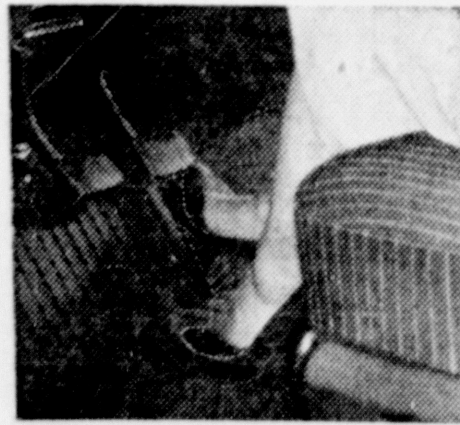

ROAD-LEVELING RIDE reduces front end road shock alone up to 80%. Wide front tread, diagonally-mounted shock absorbers take tilt out of turns. You'll discover in the '53 Ford that a car need not be excessively heavy to ride smooth as silk.

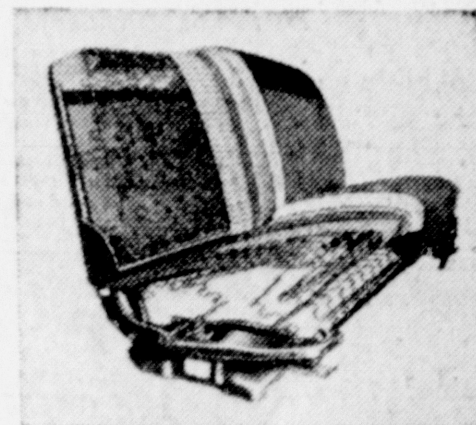

FULL-CIRCLE VISIBILITY is yours in Ford. With huge, curved, one-piece windshield, car-wide rear window and "picture windows" all-around, Ford has more "look out" area than any car in the low-price field. I-REST tinted glass also available.

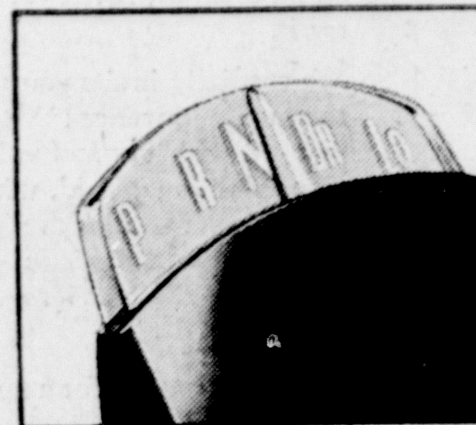

ROOMY TRUNK is one suitcase bigger... bigger than any other luggage compartment in Ford's field... bigger than you'll find in many of the expensive cars. With Ford's Center-Fill Fueling, there's no long gas-fill pipe to eat up your trunk space.

SUSPENDED PEDALS make braking and clutching easier... allow more clear floor space... eliminate dusty, drafty floor holes. This feature, exclusive to Ford in its field, permits dash-mounting of brake master cylinder for easy accessibility.

FOAM-RUBBER CUSHIONS over non-sag springs in Ford's sofa-verse seats make even long trips a treat. And you'll find that only Ford in the low-price field offers this fine-car feature as standard equipment on both front and rear seats in all models.

FORDOMATIC DRIVE—an optional extra—is really two automatic drives in one. It has a fluid torque converter for smooth, steady power flow. It has automatic gears for greater "get-up-and-go." Ford also offers you Overdrive and Conventional Drive.

MASTER-GUIDE POWER STEERING—an optional extra on V-8 models—gives you the natural "feel" of steering on the straight-away yet takes the work out of turning. Absorbs road shocks before they reach the steering wheel—adds to safety.

NOTICE
The School District of Mount Joy Township, Adams County, Pa., at its meeting to be held on Tuesday, August 25, 1953, at 7:00 o'clock P.M. D.S.T. at the residence of John Schwartz, Littlestown, R. D. 1, Pa., will receive sealed bids or proposals for the supply of a 60 passenger school bus meeting the requirements of the Department of Public Construction, Comm. of Penna. with a provision for trade-in allowances of a 1942 Reo passenger bus, which can be viewed at the John Hartman farm, Route 134, near Mount Joy Church in said Township. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. The successful bidder is required to comply with the Acts of Assembly authorizing contracts for purchase of the above equipment.

Later they were reported seen speeding through Massachusetts in another stolen car and were captured in Pottsville, Pa., allegedly after a stolen car chase.

The Larabees face charges in Vermont, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. The charges include assault, larceny and robbery.

Richard said he was beaten during 20 hours of questioning by Pennsylvania state police and was forced to sign a statement admitting certain crimes. Benjamin also charged he was forced to sign a statement under threats.

Both said they had not had a full meal for the entire week they were being sought.

States Atty. Stephen Gilman, one of a group of Vermont officials, who brought the brothers here from Pottsville, said he will ask "very heavy bail" when they are arraigned Sept. 1 in county court here.

As the cities and countryside rapidly returned to normal, possibility of a widespread revolt was considered remote. But Frenchmen generally said disorders would continue to threaten for some time.

Strong French police and army units held the troubled North African protectorate in a tight grip following the exiling last week of pro-nationalist Sultan Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef and his replacement by his pro-French uncle, Moulay Mohammed Ben Arafa. With the former Sultan in Corsica, the Istiqlal constituted the chief threat to the French.

PHILADELPHIA (P) - Parts of the top seven floors of the Land Title Building, a block from Philadelphia's City Hall, remained closed today as workmen cleared debris from a four-alarm fire that swept the 21st floor of the central city structure early yesterday.

Sidewalks were roped off to prevent pedestrians from being injured by falling debris.

One fireman was hurt during the fire when hit by a piece of rock that broke loose from a 15th floor cornice of the building.

Deputy Fire Commissioner George E. Hink said he planned to investigate reasons why some fire hoses stored in the building were unusable. He said also that some couplings for pipe in the building did not fit fire department hoses.

Australians Over 70 Become Dads

SYDNEY (P) - Each year nearly 20 Australians over the age of 70 become fathers, according to a survey by the Acting Commonwealth Statistician in Canberra. The survey, based on birth, marriage and death certificates for 1950, one was 80 and another was the husband of a girl aged 20. One youth became a father at 15, and 158 girls had become mothers at that age. Three of the girls were only 12 and nine were 13.

The percentage of births outside wedlock, (3.84) was the lowest for 40 years. One firstborn child in five was born within eight months of marriage. In 1950 one mother gave birth to her 18th child and four to the 17th child. Another had her 15th child in as many years of marriage.

TWO BROTHERS FACE CHARGES IN 4 STATES

BENNINGTON, Vt. (P) - The two Larabee brothers of Williamstown, Mass., now in custody after a week-long manhunt, blamed their troubles today on a lack of consideration shown them.

In a statement from their jail cell, Benjamin Larabee, 23, and his brother, Richard, 16, said "we are sorry for the trouble we caused the people of North Adams (Mass.) and Williamstown."

But they added if the people of those communities had been "a little more considerate of fellows who had a rough time when they were young, we wouldn't be in the spot we are now."

The hunt for them started a week ago last Saturday when a stolen car was found abandoned near Hownal, Vt.

Soon after the search began, Vermont state trooper Foster Corliss was fired on from ambush but was not hit.

A third major bill signed by the governor allows local school districts to take part in the joint operation of educational television stations with schools or non-profit organizations. The state is not obligated for any costs in such projects.

The measure was one of three to establish a statewide educational television network of four stations. Fine said he was "sorry, indeed that the Legislature turned thumbs down" on the network proposal.

RENNER, Tex. (P) - Plant breeders at the Texas Research Foundation here know exactly how much corn it takes to plant five acres - 110,000 grains for 22,000 hills. They patiently counted out five grains per hill in a test project to observe performance of new varieties.

In 1820, when a salt well, located where Pittsburgh now stands, was deepened, natural gas was tapped, but no use could be found for the gas and the well was capped to prevent its becoming a nuisance.

END OF A CATNAP - This mouse, unaware that sleeping cats as well as sleeping dogs should lie, ventured too close to its dozing enemy with the above result. It happened in England.

Governor Signs Two More Bills Over Weekend

HARRISBURG (P) - Bills calling for a constitutional revision referendum and providing money for general state operations were signed into law over the weekend by Gov. John S. Fine.

By law he has until Wednesday midnight, 30 days after adjournment of the Legislature, to act on the more than 100 bills sent him during the final days of the 1953 Legislature.

Although terming it a "feeble step" the governor approved a bill to allow Pennsylvania voters to decide on Nov. 3 whether the 79-year-old constitution should be rewritten. The present constitution will be exactly 80 years old election day.

RODGERS - HILL

 Mitchell, Philadelphia, a cousin of the bride. Their gowns, hats and slippers were in mint green and similar in design to the matron of honor. Miss Larson carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses, yellow gladioli and ivy. The attendants carried cascade bouquets of yellow gladioli and ivy.

Two Flower Girls
 Frederick A. Rodgers, Gettysburg, a twin brother of the groom, was the best man and the ushers were David and Richard Courtney, Detroit, Mich., cousins of the bride; Jared Darlington, Darlington, Pa.; Luther I. Sachs Jr., Gettysburg, a fraternity brother of the groom, and Paul J. Reaver, Gettysburg, a cousin of the groom.
 The flower girls were Miss Marsha Houghton, Olean, N. Y., a cousin of the bride, and Miss Susan Weikert, Gettysburg, a cousin of the groom. Both wore floor-length gowns of lavender-green changeable chromspun taffeta designed with full skirts and round necklines. They wore headpieces of yellow daisies and carried baskets of yellow flowers.
 The bride's mother wore a Dior blue silk taffeta gown trimmed with lace, an old rose hat and gloves and a corsage of sweetheart roses.

 After the ceremony a reception was held at the Gettysburg Country Club. The couple left later on a honeymoon of unannounced destination. The bride's traveling ensemble included a navy silk print dress with a red linen duster lined with matching silk print, navy blue accessories and a white orchid corsage. Upon their return they will reside at 2721 N. Plantation Drive, Bossier City, La.
Taught School Here
 The bride was graduated from Gettysburg High School in 1948 and from Pennsylvania State College in 1952. She taught third grade at the Meade School until her resignation in July. She is a member of the Phi Mu social fraternity, the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority and the AAUW. Her husband was graduated from Gettysburg High School in 1947 and from Penn State College in 1951. A member of the Phi Gamma Delta social fraternity, he is presently stationed at Barksdale Air Force Base at Shreveport, La.
 Out-of-town guests were from Detroit, Mich.; Olean, N. Y.; Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Cumberland, Md.; Menton, O.; Wilkes-Barre, Carlisle, Harrisburg, York, Arlington, Va.; Chambersburg, Wilmington, Del., and Bethlehem.

NEW ADVICE TO BLONDES

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor
 Blondes get blonder in the summer. And in the summer it looks good. But come chilly Autumn and the same blonde tresses having been exposed to the sun's rays, are likely to become streaky, brittle and unmanageable.
 A girl who wouldn't think of visiting a beach in mid-day without suntan lotion to protect her skin, thinks nothing of exposing her luscious locks to the sun's rays.
 Blondes who are proud of their light tresses usually can't be sold on a head covering, no matter how lovely. So oil treatments are the only solution. These are simple to do and well worth the effort. Here's how:
Brush Hair Thoroughly
 Before your regular shampoo brush your hair thoroughly. Part the hair. Take a small cotton ball and dip it in baby oil or another favorite oil. Section the hair in inch strips all over the head, applying baby oil as you go along. Use a fresh cotton ball as one becomes soiled.
 When the entire scalp has been oiled, spread thumbs and fingers of both hands and place them firmly against the scalp. Use fingertips to rotate the scalp slowly until it loses its tight feeling. Move the hands to a different portion of the head and continue this massage until the scalp tingles and grows warm.

 If this treatment is done in the cool of the evening, you may want to wring a towel out of hot water and wrap it around the oiled hair for a few minutes. If the evening is hot, you'll probably want to wash the oil right out along with your regular soaping.
Clean Water Rinses
 Two to three soapings and three clear water rinses will leave your hair good and clean. The juice of a freshly squeezed lemon may be added to the rinse water.

Brushing is another important summer hair-care step. It is particularly stimulating when done with two brushes, one in either hand, with head hanging down, we are told. This really stimulates the scalp, imparting a healthy glow to your tresses, according to the hair experts.

 If frequent swimming pool dips or salt water swims are part of your summer playtime schedule, make a beeline for the summer shower. Clear water should rinse away the chlorine used in pools and remove ocean salt.

Pin-curls put up with cologne after your shower-shampoo will help dry the hair in a jiffy and leave it fragrant. A cooling astringent whisked around the browline to remove powder traces is the final fillip in a summer makeup.
